Man wielding knife is shot by GC police

Police say shooting was last resort to protect onlookers

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Editor

A distressed Vietnam veteran who held police at bay around his apartment for nearly two hours Friday morning was shot by a police officer as the man fled carrying a knife toward a group of spectators.

Ed Tomlin, 33, who lives in an apartment at 3008 E. 23rd St., is recuperating in St. Elizabeth Medical Center after surgery on a stab wound to his chest and a bullet wound which entered his buttocks and exited his abdomen, authorities said. Authorities allege the knife wound was self-inflicted.

POLICE SAID the shot was fired only after other attempts to restrain Tomlin failed and it appeared he was going into a crowd of innocent people. "We didn't want a hostage situation here. That was the last thing we wanted," Chief of Police Ronald Veizer told reporters during a news conference Friday afternoon. Veizer said his department was "still sorting out the facts," but added, "At this point, I think my officers acted properly."

The ordeal began at 9:26 a.m. Friday when police were called and told that a man broke the doors to enter two other apartments at 3008 E. 23rd St., directly across from the Salvation Army, and took a knife from each.

WHEN POLICE arrived, they found Tomlin in a pushup position with a knife wedged between his body and the floor, the point touching his chest. Officers decided not to enter for fear he would drop on the knife.

Chief Veizer said attempts to communicate with Tomlin were unsuccessful since he was "very incoherent." He did threaten to kill himself and anyone who entered the apartment.

Police then began checking Tomlin's background and abilities. They were told he is a Vietnam veteran, possibly the victim of shell shock, who has been in veterans hospitals several times. He normally is peaceful and tends to talk religion, those that know him told reporters. Police also were warned that Tomlin is athletic and strong and is a very fast runner. "Real fast. Real quick," one officer was quoted as saying.

A COUNSELOR from Mental Health Services was requested at 9:50 a.m. and he arrived shortly after 10 a.m. The counselor said he was unable to communicate with 'Officers acted properly'—chief

Tomlin, so the counselor left to prepare necessary papers to have Tomlin committed to a hospital.

Police then called for riot batons, which they thought might be used to knock the knife from Tomlin's hands if he got up. A decision was made to have three officers wearing gas masks enter the apartment and drop a tear gas canister to get Tomlin out.

The three entered and one of the officers involved is quoted by the department as saying "He (Tomlin) didn't even know we were there." When the tear gas canister, containing three explosive charges, went off, Tomlin allegedly got up and slashed at the officers with the knife. He then bolted for the door, narrowly missing one officer he slashed at before jumping out, it was alleged.

POLICE CHASED him and beat his arm with the riot sticks in an attempt to dislodge the knife, but were unsuccessful. Tomlin ran across the street and through a field toward Lincoln Avenue, still allegedly slashing the knife at officers, who continued to beat on his arm.

When Tomlin ran toward a group of spectators, "It was determined to bring him down," Chief Veizer said. An officer described as an excellent shot fired his service revolver, aiming just below any vital organs. Tomlin fell, but got up to his knees and again swung the knife at officers and ambulance emergency medical technicians, nearly cutting them, authorities said.

Even though he had been shot, Tomlin was described as "strong as a bull" and officers said they had to continue to beat his arm with the riot batons in an attempt to disarm him. The department quotes one officer as saying, "All I could do was contain one arm."

TOMLIN got up one more time, placed the knife to his chest and lunged to the ground on top of it, police said.

"From the time we were inside (the apartment) to the very end, all we wanted to do is get the knife out of his hand," one of the officers who was at the scene is quoted as saying. Chief of Detectives Harry Mitchell described the knife as a kind of steak or paring knife with about a four-inch blade.

OFFICERS were finally able to get Tomlin into an ambulance, but he continued to fight, even in the emergency room, sources said. He was rushed into surgery and police were told his condition was stable by Friday afternoon.

Veizer said he will not, at this time, name the officers who were involved. He said the veteran officer who shot Tomlin is upset over the incident and "is still sick."

The chief said he feels his men showed restraint in dealing with Tomlin up until the decision to shoot him was made; then the shooting was done properly to protect the lives of others and to bring Tomlin down without killing him. "That's why policemen have to carry guns," the chief said.

"IT'S UNFORTUNATE, but these things do happen," Veizer noted, recalling that he, himself, had to shoot a murderer many years ago to protect another officer who was being threatened with a claw hammer. However, he could not recall a shooting by police in Granite City for several years.

Responding to witnesses who allege the police were too brutal with Tomlin (see related story), Veizer said, "All they saw was the very end of it. They didn't see the whole thing." Veizer said, noting that the spectators did not realize that they were in danger of being slashed or taken hostage and the shooting was a last resort to protect them. "We have to worry about the other people out there," he added.

Some question use of force

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
of the Press-Record

At least a dozen persons who witnessed the Granite City Police Department's apprehension of Ed Tomlin, 33, Friday morning are protesting the police department's tactics in overtaking the man.

Tomlin, whom the neighbors know only as a "religious fanatic" and a Vietnam veteran, forcibly entered his neighbors' homes at 3008 East 23rd St. stealing only kitchen knives. He then proceeded back to his apartment at 3008 E. 23rd where, police say, it appeared he wanted to take his life with the knives.

AFTER TEAR gas grenades were used to remove Tomlin from his apartment, he ran across East 23rd Street, towards the Loy Singleton residence at 2820 Lincoln St., where spectators allege police improperly apprehended Tomlin.

"Heck, I give the rabbits I shoot while hunting more of a chance than they gave him," Singleton said referring to police apprehension of Tomlin.

"When I told the police (officer) that, he told me to shut up and get back in my house," Singleton said.

"ISAW the police running. I didn't see what they were after at first," Singleton said. "There were about four policemen coming from that direction and another one or two coming from there. At first I didn't see him," Singleton said pointing towards the home behind his.

"I thought, 'What the heck are they after anyhow?' Then I saw him running in the back of this building right here. Then this policeman shot him right there, back of the house, knocked him down. And every one of the cops could have undertaken him right there," Singleton said.

"He got on his feet and then they shot him in the back (buttocks), then 'pow,' he went down. I saw most of it from my garden. I walked out to my garden when I saw the commotion. I didn't know they were going to shoot."

"AFTER the first shot, I hurried and got back in the yard. Heck, I was right in the line of fire there."

"They more or less let him right up so they could shoot him, just like an animal," said Marilyn Smith, Singleton's daughter.

"Yeah, I told the police he was a human. He didn't need to treat him like that," Singleton said.

SINGLETON and other witnesses say the police needlessly beat Tomlin in an attempt to get the knife from him.

"The police brutality is the main issue," Mrs. Smith said. "I stand up for police. I don't call them police pigs or anything. I'm all for them. But when they get that big, that's too big," she contended.

Friday afternoon, during an interview, Granite City Police Chief Ronald Veizer denied any wrongdoing by his officers, saying his officers were trying to protect those very people who are making the complaints. (Related story above.)

only Republican on the three-member board—is backing Heil in the March 20 primary.

The grand jury questioned witnesses Feb. 9-10 and Feb. 16-17 and will resume Thursday, Feb. 23. Weber, himself a target of another grand jury investigation, believes "things are starting to happen" in the study of auto agency valuations.

The review board, meanwhile, confirmed township assessor-set dealer values, declining to reduce any for the 1983 tax year (1984 tax collection) even though dealers said they are still experiencing recession-related financial problems.

Heil thinks the jury study of assessing is legal, but that it is inappropriate because merely starting it suggests there was wrongdoing.

WITH NO ADVANCE evidence of illegal activity, such a probe constitutes a "witch hunt" rather than normal investigation, Heil contended last week.

Steel sale in doubt

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

Will sale of Granite City Steel and other National plants to U.S. Steel actually take place? Doubt is being voiced in the wake of last week's federal challenge of the planned sale of Republic Steel to LTV.

Charles Bradford, Merrill Lynch, Pierce Fenner & Smith analyst, said, "The U.S.-National (Feb. 1) deal is probably dead. Odds of it being approved are down to one in 10."

Asst. Attorney General J. Paul McGrath, head of the Justice Department's antitrust division, ruled against LTV-Republic Feb. 15 and said later of U.S.-National: "The same factors would be involved. To the extent that this might give some learning as to other mergers, so be it."

HE FOUND LTV's purchase plan anticompetitive because of existing partial steel import restraints. He said market-share concentrations would be "unacceptably high" but would not take into account Japanese and European steel sold in the U.S.

Griffin Bell, former attorney general, said Thursday "I don't know if I'd want to rely on a temporary agreement with Japan. Our steel industry is under heavy attack by imports," he commented, adding that domestic steel would be essential in a time of war.

An LTV spokesman said, "McGrath cited shares of the domestic market. How relevant is any share of that market if it is subject to international competition?" LTV, which owns Jones Laughlin and in 1978 bought Youngstown Sheet & Tube, will meet with antitrust officials Wednesday to try to satisfy their objections.

MCGRATH said he might allow acquisition of Republic if "difficult" issues were resolved. LTV said it might have to resell half of Republic's steel finishing capacity to someone else and divest its own or Republic's stainless steel operations.

Justice Department rulings usually are given on steel, railroad and communication mergers while the Federal Trade Commission decides oil, auto and retail food industry consolidations.

THE FTC this winter approved Texaco's purchase of Getty Oil and General Motors' plan to produce cars jointly with Toyota.

U.S. Trade Rep. William Brock and Commerce Secretary Malcolm Baldrige were critical of McGrath's action. Brock said blocking steel mergers would give a "powerful new argument" to demands for protection from steel imports.

Steelmakers say there are many barriers to U.S. exports and excessive freedom to import steel. McGrath contends import limits are effective.

Juries are adding spice to primary

Lawyers tend to be extroverts, anyway, and among the more flamboyant are those currently seeking the Republican nomination for state's attorney—Don W. Weber of Collinsville, the incumbent, and James R. Heil of Godfrey, an active member of the Madison County Board until losing in 1982.

An example of Weber's policies is his response to Democratic officials' study of how to keep new-car dealers' real estate taxes affordable. It ought to be more of an arm's-length relationship than the kind of discussion apparently held, Weber felt.

Acknowledging that he was mainly wanting to exert pressure on the assessment authorities, he did not settle for a mere public statement but instead embarked on a formal Madison County grand jury investigation of assessment practices.

PUTTING 2 AND 2 together, Heil added it up and wondered whether Fred Finck of the assessment Board of Review was being called on grand jurors' carpet because Finck—the Income averaging can reduce the tax burden

Many taxpayers whose income increased substantially in 1983 can save tax when filing their federal tax returns by using the income averaging methods to compute tax, the Internal Revenue Service said.

Under the income averaging method, part of an unusually large amount of taxable income is taxed at a lower rate, according to the IRS.

Taxpayers must have been U.S. citizens or residents for all the last five tax years to qualify. Taxpayers usually must have provided more than 50 percent of their own support during the four years prior to 1983 and have an average income of more than $3,000 to be eligible for income averaging, the IRS said.

The easiest way to determine average income is to complete Schedule G, "Income Averaging." Complete instructions on how to compute the tax by income averaging appear in IRS Publication 506, "Income Averaging." Schedule G and Publication 506 are available free from the IRS and can be ordered by using the handy order form in the tax forms packages.

Taxpayers who use the income averaging method must have copies of their tax returns for the four years prior to 1983, the IRS noted.

Copies of prior year tax returns can be ordered by completing Form 4006, "Request for Copy of Tax Form or Individual Income Tax Account Information," available by calling or writing the IRS.

Taxpayers will be charged $5 per return for copies of prior year tax returns. Payments must accompany the order. Taxpayers should allow at least 45 days for receipt.

ENTERS PIZZA SHOP

A burglar broke out a front window and entered Tiger's Pizza, 2401 E. 24th St., disturbing the cash register and scattering papers around, it was reported by Lloyd Roussan last week. The sole item reported to be missing was an AM-FM portable cassette stereo.

THIEF TAKES TV, WATCHES

Damaging a door and door frame, a burglar at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Terry Douglas, 2328 W. 24th St., took a $390 portable television set, a lady's $137 watch, a man's wristwatch, diamond earrings, a tanager and $10 in cash.

State police leaders at Post 10-4 dinner

Illinois State Police Superintendent Laimutis A. Nargelenas will be guest speaker at the 15th annual "Family Night" of Madison Explorer Post 10-4.

ISP Deputy Superintendent William Pierce, who is responsible for all district operations in the State of Illinois, and Captain Bobby Henry, ISP District 11, headquartered in Collinsville, also will be in attendance, it was announced.

The family-style dinner will take place at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 22, at the Madison Memorial Recreation Center, Seventh Street and Lee Avenue.

Each year, the families of nationally recognized Explorer Post 10-4 join together with members and invited guests for a special dinner during February, which is designated "Scout Month" by the Boy Scouts of America.

About 225 persons associated with Post 10-4's program are expected to attend this year's event.

Supt. Nargelenas is a former District 11 commander and has assisted in providing educational programs for the Madison post, which is geared to law enforcement. The ISP chief officer is an active supporter of the Explorer program and served on a committee that planted the first National Law Enforcement Explorer Conference in 1979 at Michigan State University in East Lansing, Mich.

He has been with the Illinois Department of Law Enforcement 14 years and, prior to his present post, served in such capacities as physical training officer, director of the Illinois State Police Training Academy and assistant director of the Illinois Division of Criminal Investigation.

In his current position, Supt. Nargelenas commands about 1,323 police officers and 526 civilian personnel. In addition to his professional duties, he also is working toward a Ph.D. in education.

L. A. NARGELENAS
ISP SUPERINTENDENT

At next week's dinner, local businessmen and other individuals who have contributed outstanding service to the Explorer program will be recognized, it was announced. Those persons introduced to the assembly and receiving appreciative comments have been selected by post officers, it was noted.

Post 10-4, whose membership is drawn from the entire Quad-City area, has been recognized on 14 occasions by the Boy Scouts of America for excellence in program and standards.

The post was founded in October 1969 by W.P. "Mick" Struffa of Madison and many of its "graduates" have since entered the professional law enforcement field.

Lambert-E. St. Louis Night rail service chosen

The transit Committee of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council board will present recommendations for major transit capital investment to the board at its Feb. 29 meeting.

The committee's evaluation of the preliminary draft of the Alternatives Analysis Draft Environmental Impact Statement (AA-DEIS) which was presented to the board Jan. 25.

The five alternatives presented included: no action; Transportation Systems Management (TSM); and two light transit alternatives.

The recommendation is to endorse the fifth of the alternatives, it includes "light rail service from East St. Louis to Lambert Airport and a shuttle bus system to Clayton."

Selection of alternative five was influenced by "substantial community opposition" to the light rail segment considered for the University City and Clayton area.

In addition, specification of a particular alignment for the Natural Bridge segment will be made only after consideration of "relative community support for the two proposals presented in the preliminary draft."

The recommendation includes endorsement to explore the "potential for extension of light rail service into Madison and St. Clair Counties in Illinois." However, these recommendations are contingent on completion of AA-DEIS planning and the project development process.

The process includes a public comment period and a public hearing at which individual citizens and other interested parties may submit oral or written comments.

The recommendation is the culmination of several years of previous work and preparation of the preliminary draft. The draft has been underway for nearly one year.

Blair School notes Black History month

In commemoration of Black History Month, Blair School is hosting the Gospel Choir of State Community College, East St. Louis. The program will be presented at 1:30 p.m. Friday, Feb. 24.

Juan Gardner, graduate of the University of Illinois and Madison High School, will be speaking about contributions made by notable blacks of the past and present. The program will be under the direction of Bernard Long, principal.

Parents, relatives and friends are being invited to attend the celebration.

GC council briefs

By the installment plan

Negligent motorists—who cause personal injury to city employees or damage to city property may find themselves with a new creditor—the city. Granite City aldermen approved a law authorizing the clerk and mayor to enter into written agreements with uninsured motorists to obtain payments for those types of accidents. The resolution is based on the Illinois Safety Responsible Law. Failure to make the payments will result in a suspended license.

New ambulance on way

Purchase of a new ambulance and life-sustaining support equipment at a cost of about $41,000 was approved. Second Ward Alderman Sam Whitmer, ambulance committee chairman, said the emergency vehicle would be financed through a $30,000 donation from the Granite City Steel Division of National Steel and by funds remaining from the construction of the 19th Street overpass. The council also authorized $1,400 to be spent for ambulance communications equipment. When the ambulance arrives in approximately six weeks, it will be the second paramedic-ready vehicle stationed in two of the city's three fire stations. Fifth Ward Alderman Lloyd Bailey expressed his disappointment that the purchase would not affect emergency service to his ward, where ambulance crews are not usually available to man the ambulance kept at Granite City Fire House 2 on Rock Road.

Police honor roll

The 1983 annual police attendance honor roll listed perfect attendance for 27 police officers and staff members. Alderman Casmer Skubish, First Ward, recommended Sgt. Joseph Kastelle be recognized for maintaining perfect attendance for 16 consecutive years. Others on the list are: Capt. Gerald Pinkerton, 15 years; Detective Sgt. Jerry "Kip" Pomeroy, seven years; Detective Craig Nomm, seven years; Sgt. John Apperson, five years; Secretary Judy Dallas, five years; Detective Jerry Wilson, four years; Clerk Marlan Heinrich, four years; Chief Ronald Astorian, two years; Officer Sam Avedisian, three years; Sgt. Donald Knight, three years; Officer Stephen Willared, three years; Officer Richard Schardan three years; Officer Timothy Leyer, three years; Capt. Harry Mitchell, two years; Lt. Col. Robert Astorian, two years; and Officer David Rosenberg, two years. One year perfect attendance was accumulated by Detective Dusan Gach, Lt. Glenn Wright, Detective Anthony Eck, Officers William Curtis and Donald Petrillo and Sgt. David Ruebner, who spoke with perfect attendance since the date of their employment are Officer Walter Milton, hired Aug. 1, 1980; Officer Michael Gach, hired May 1, 1982; Officer Nedwin Tapp, hired April 15, 1983, and Officer Ronald Landman hired June 1, 1983.

Mental Health Services home

Mental Health Services of Southern Madison County, Inc., a private not-for-profit group, will move its group residential facility to the 1200 block of Niedringhaus Avenue. The move will resolve an alleged zoning violation of its home currently located on Edison Avenue. Bruce Hayter, residential supervisor, who spoke before the council, submitted a letter outlining the purpose of the facility to City Engineer Monroe Brewer. According to Hayter, the group needs a building that could house 14 to 18 clients and offer additional space for group meetings, classes and staff office needs. The residential program is designed for those 18 years and older who have a history of poor adjustment to community living due to poor emotional and interpersonal skills. All clients will be participating in individual treatment sessions and daytime activities. Third Ward Alderman Carl Kittel, sole objector to the new residential unit, based his vote on the premise that some clients will be on medication without an on-site supervisor present 24 hours a day. The group does plan to have phone assistance available at all times with staff members ready to respond to emergency situations. The local Mental Health Services office is located at 2024 State St., about a block from the planned Niedringhaus facility.

Aid for seniors

The council voted to put $8,000 in its 1984-85 budget to support the Older Adult Program, which employs persons 55 years and older in part-time work for not-for-profit agencies. The program gives older residents training to re-enter the job market. The program is sponsored by the Madison County Programs for Older Persons of Belleville Area College.

Community plans

Quad-City AMVETS Post 51 and Auxiliary have been granted permission to conduct the annual Memorial Day program at 11 a.m. on May 28 on the lawn of the Granite City Hall. The group also will sponsor a parade to start at 24th Street and Madison Avenue with staff members ready to respond to emergency situations. A request from the Quad-City Unit of the American Cancer Society for a residential crusade April 2 to 6. Volunteers will distribute information about cancer prevention and collect funds to continue cancer research and education.

Applications available for free home weatherization

Quad-City area residents may begin calling Monday, Feb. 20, for reservations to submit their applications for the Energy Assistance Foundation's free home weatherization program.

Under the new program, free home energy-saving talks, materials and work will be offered to low-income senior citizens, ages 60 and older, and disabled residents. It is estimated that between 30 and 40 homes will be protected against heat loss this winter through the Energy Assistance Foundation.

Those who want to take part in the program may call 622-1380 for appointments to submit their applications. No resident will be interviewed without an appointment.

Transportation may be arranged for residents without their own means to visit Coordinated Youth Services, where the applications will be filled and initially processed.

No applicant should be eligible for the Illinois Home Weatherization program if applying for the Energy Assistance Foundation program. The dwelling may either be owned or rented by the applicant.

Illinois Power has contributed $250,000 to the Energy Assistance Foundation for this program and is matching private donations.

University fund boost proposed

A $47.5 million increase in operating funds for higher education in fiscal 1985 is being proposed. It would allow salary increases and a hike in state maximum scholarship awards.

Also, a proposed special $10 million program within higher education is intended to help state economic and technology development. It also is hoped to encourage medical school students to practice medicine in underserved areas upon graduation.

The allocation for higher education proposed by the governor totals $1.14 billion in general revenue funds (GRF). Total revenues for higher education, including federal dollars, university income fund and other sources, are $1.363 billion. Fiscal 1984 funding from GRF totaled $1,037 billion.

The $47.5 million allocation would allow for an average five percent salary increase for faculty and staff at state universities and community colleges.

The top award for state scholarships would increase nine percent, from $2,200 to $2,400, at a cost to the state of $5.5 million.

Another $1 million would be allocated for scholarships to medical school students who agree to locate in underserved areas.

The Board of Higher Education budget recommendation assumes a 6.3 percent tuition increase. State university systems are free to set their own tuition levels.

Under the new $10 million program, additional dollars would be spent on improving engineering education by upgrading equipment, retaining key faculty and increasing enrollment in engineering.

In biotechnology, areas of concentration under the program would include agribusiness and upgrading research faculty in emerging technologies.

Other portions of the new program would involve adding additional emphasis on job retraining programs at colleges, improving math-science teacher training programs, and upgrading computer capacity at colleges and universities.

The Board of Higher Education is expected to allocate the governor's budget recommendation at its March meeting. Gov. James R. Thompson will outline elementary and secondary education recommendations at a later date.

Richard Wagner, executive director of the Board of Higher Education, said the budget "reflects the fiscal constraints facing the state but also reflects awareness of and responsiveness to the need for additional funding to maintain and improve the quality of higher education in Illinois."

Stanley Ikenberry, president of the University of Illinois, said, "budget recommendations for higher education - given the limited new dollars available - represent a step forward. I have urged that the priority for higher education funding go up, and the governor appears to be taking lead to do that."

"I believe legislative leaders will applaud these initiatives. If approved, they will attack problems in engineering education, modernize equipment holdings, advance our programs in biogenetics and help other areas, such as mathematics and computer science, that are central to the future of our state and our nation."

Kenneth Shaw, chancellor of Southern Illinois University, said, "In his State of the State address, Gov. Thompson acknowledged the importance of education in meeting the challenges of the new economy. In a year when resources will be extremely tight, he has shown by these recommendations that his words are being translated into deeds."

"While the amount earmarked for higher education falls short of meeting all the needs expressed in the 1985 budget recommendations, it does represent, in my opinion, a good faith effort on his part to improve our funding situation for fiscal 1985."

"If economic projections should improve in the months ahead, we would of course stand ready to show how additional dollars could be used for higher education."

Air Force seeking nurses

The United States Air Force is looking for registered nurses to become commissioned officers during fiscal year 1984, according to Captain Donna Shankles, Air Force nurse recruiter here.

"The Air Force offers many challenging opportunities for personal and professional growth," Capt. Shankles said.

A nursing career with the Air Force begins with commissioning. Nurses are commissioned a second or first lieutenant, based upon educational background. They initially agree to a three-year obligation and know where they will be assigned before taking the oath of office.

Those who elect to make the Air Force a career can look forward to timely promotions if they compete favorably with their peers, said Capt. Shankles. They have an opportunity to specialize in such areas as the operating room, nurse anesthesia, obstetrics or flight nursing. Captain Shankles added, and as commissioned officers, they enjoy an attractive package of entitlements.

Basic entitlements include medical and dental care, 30 days of vacation with pay each year along with normal pay increases for promotions, longevity and cost of living.

All Air Force members have the use of a wide range of base facilities and recreational activities. Recreational activities on most bases include a theater, bowling alley, golf course, swimming pools, gym and social clubs that normally feature live entertainment and a full-service menu.

More information on Air Force nursing is available from Technical Sergeant William M. Lunford, 4 Executive Dr., Suite 1, Fairview Heights, Ill. 62208, telephone 1-618-624-3363.

News notes

U.S. District Judge Clyde S. Cahill on Friday ordered that Thomas R. Brimberry, formerly of Granite City, undergo a psychiatric examination to determine whether he is competent to aid in his defense at a trial March 12 on 10 federal charges.

Brimberry, a key official of the defunct Stix & Co. stock brokerage, told Cahill, "I don't want an exam, nor do I need one. I feel okay." One of his attorneys, David J. Hovland, disagreed, saying Brimberry seems concerned with issues unrelated to the allegations of false testimony.

Sheriff deputies voted 46-25 Thursday and Friday against a proposed settlement of their four-month pay dispute, and resumed informal picketing. A County Board two-year offer lacked general pay raises but included a late-fall wage reopen and $70 more each year for a health care fund, a spokesman said. Foes noted that the tentative pact eliminated a paid holiday and ended a $500 bonus for unused sick-pay.

The annual Madison County tax sale Thursday transferred titles of 95 percent of a total of 2,000 delinquent parcels of property, subject to whether the previous owners pay taxes, interest and penalties within a specified time. Tax delinquencies totaled $850,000.

Latest polls still show Democrat Paul Simon and Republican Charles Percy leading in U.S. Senate nomination races.

The governor will lead an 11-day, four-country business development mission to Europe March 2-12. The cost to taxpayers will exceed $42,000.

Paul Mearsh of Alton faces a contempt of court citation for failing to inform the Circuit Court that he had been convicted of theft in Macoupin County in 1971. He served on a jury that convicted Charles T. Howland Jr. of Granite City of theft and acquitted him of burglary.

The Madison County Democratic Central Committee will honor Cong. Paul Simon, a Senate primary candidate, at a brunch at 11 a.m. Saturday at the Collinsville Hilton Hotel. Joining Simon there will be Cong. Richard Gephardt of St. Louis.

Doctor explains ways to deal with hyperactive

Six-year-old Timothy can't sit still in class. He never seems to pay attention. He won't take turns. His bossy, aggressive behavior has made him unpopular with his classmates. His schoolwork is generally poor. His restless, disruptive behavior tries the patience of everyone who comes in contact with him. Timothy is hyperactive.

Fortunately, there are things that can be done to help children like Timothy. At a recent PTA meeting at Parkview School, Dr. Richard Iken, a Granite City pediatrician, spoke to teachers and parents about hyperactivity or "attention deficit disorder." In his talk, he outlined steps that can be taken to make life easier to hyperactive children and those around them.

The first step is diagnosis, Dr. Iken says. "If it is suspected that a child is hyperactive, the child should be evaluated by a family physician or pediatrician to be sure that the child really is hyperactive," he explains. Evaluation consists of a physical examination, testing for learning disability and intelligence testing. Because intelligence testing is not very accurate when performed on preschool children, Dr. Iken says that the child's behavior in school is during the early school years.

Once it has been determined that the child is indeed hyperactive, several measures can be taken to deal with the problem. "The school setting needs to be very structured to help the child," Dr. Iken says. "These children have difficulty 'tuning out' distractions." When distractions are kept to a minimum, hyperactive children find it easier to focus on their schoolwork.

Hyperactive children also can be helped with medication. "The type of drug most often prescribed for hyperactive children is some form of short-acting stimulant," Dr. Iken says. For reasons that are not clearly understood, stimulants seem to have a calming, rather than stimulating effect, on hyperactive children.

Dr. Iken says that medication does not cure the disorder. It simply helps children calm down and concentrate. This enables the child to do better schoolwork and interact with others in a more positive manner. With the help of the medication, hyperactive children begin to feel better about themselves.

As with any medication, the use of stimulants should be approached with care, he explains. Dosages should be given only as prescribed by a doctor. When a child begins taking

ALLEGED PHONE CALLS RESULTS IN CHARGE

After Jim Merchoff, 900 Niedringhaus Ave., alleged getting numerous telephone calls from Ruben Ybarra, 1723 Poplar St., relating to payment of hospital expenses, Ybarra was arrested by Granite City police at a Madison tavern and charged with disorderly conduct at 7:30 p.m. Friday.

The two men were involved in an altercation a few days ago and Ybarra, 28, was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center for treatment, reports noted.

ing medication, teachers need to be informed so that they can let parents know how the child is responding. A child who appears highly irritable, for example, may be receiving too high a dosage and the physician will need to adjust the medication accordingly.

Dr. Iken also says that children should take time off from medication when they are not in school, such as over holidays and during summer vacation. He says that in studies done to date, use of medication has not been shown to have adverse long-term effects.

Behavior counseling is another way to help hyperactive children and their families cope. Parents often feel inadequate and guilty, as though they are to blame for the situation. Counseling helps parents understand that they are not at fault and that they can deal effectively with their child. With counseling, hyperactive children understand that they are not bad people, it's their behavior that is unacceptable.

On the subject of diet, Dr. Iken says that although there have been a number of stories published extolling the virtues of a sugar-free diet, he isn't quite convinced. "I wouldn't rule out the possibility that sugar may play a part in this disorder, but I think that further study is needed. None of the reports, so far, have been tested in a scientific manner. Until we have that kind of information, it is not possible to say for sure what effect sugar does have."

Although there is no known cure for hyperactivity, Dr. Iken says that nearly all hyperactive children can benefit from good medical treatment and a caring, supportive environment.

Area Council PTA blood drive set March 14-15

The Granite City Area Council of PTA and Tri-City Chapter of American Red Cross will co-sponsor a blood drive on Wednesday and Thursday, March 14-15, from 2 to 7 p.m. It was announced today by Mrs. June Branding, council president.

The annual drive will be conducted at Central Christian Church, 2020 Johnson Road, and is open to anyone between the age of 17 and 66. They do not need to be a member of a PTA Unit to participate in the public project, Mrs. Branding added.

"After blood is donated, it takes six hours to be processed for transfusion or separated into components. If an accident victim needs blood, there is not enough time to have donors come to give blood. This is the very reason for a blood drive to keep a supply on hand. Shelf life of blood is 35 days and donors may give blood every eight weeks," the co-chairmen of the event, Bob and Carol Braundmeier explained.

They added, "The Missouri-Illinois Region Red Cross located at St. Louis, supplies 140 hospitals in eastern Missouri and Southern Illinois."

For more information in conjunction with the drive those interested are advised to contact the co-chairmen at 876-5713.

Order of Eagles helping people since 1898

Eighty-six years ago, on the sixth day of February in 1898, six theatre owners, meeting in a waterfront shipyard, formed an organization. They called it The Order of Good Things, but, soon thereafter, that name was changed to the Fraternal Order of Eagles. Today there are over one million men and women in over 1,800 Eagle clubs from coast to coast.

To capsuleize over eight decades of fraternal existence is not easy. Perhaps, the slogan "Eagles are people helping people" comes closest to catching the spirit and goals of the fraternity. Certainly, the people helping people description fits the legislative endeavors of Eagles over many years.

Eagle crusades for social legislation had as their objective protecting the average citizen from catastrophic risks against which he could not insure himself or herself. Nowadays, most Americans and Canadians would see social insurance as a proper concept to spread among the many a catastrophic hazard that would otherwise fall upon a few. But it was not always so.

Eagle crusading for social legislation began with the order's support of workmen's compensation acts. The F.O.E. co-sponsored, with organized labor, America's first comprehensive, statewide workmen's compensation, the Wisconsin act, enacted in 1908. Of the trailblazing nature of this achievement, a chairman of the Social Security Board was later to say, "In those early days, a few were the voices that cried out against neglect of children, the plight of the aged, poor and the jobless. Among those few were the Eagles."

Next came enactment of America's first public pension law. It was not an old age pension act. It was widows and orphans law, called the Mothers Allowance Act, passed in 1911 by the Missouri legislature. This Eagle-sponsored law was drafted by an Eagle judge, Edward Everett Porterfield, who said when it became a law "you Eagles are entitled to the credit for the creation and making of this law, the most constructive law on any book of statutes the world knows."

Then came the long, long struggle for pensions for the aged. The Eagles launched their nationwide drive for old-age security at their convention in Newark in 1921. Two years later, America's first old-age pension law was enacted in Montana. It was drafted by an Eagle legislator, Lester Loble, and signed by an Eagle governor, Joseph Dixon. From the start, state by state the campaign went on. It culminated in the enactment of the Social Security Act in 1935. When he signed the measure, President Franklin D. Roosevelt, presented the pen with which he signed the measure to the Fraternal Order of the Eagles "... as a symbol of my approval of the fraternity's vision and courage."

Since then, the Eagles have supported the expansion of social security to include health benefits, particularly for older citizens.

In the sixties, the Eagles took up the cudgels on behalf of older job seekers. State and federal legislation was sought to ban job discrimination based on age. One million signatures were secured on petitions urging "Jobs After 40" action by congress. When the Eagle-sponsored Dent-Yarborough bills cleared both houses of congress, President Lyndon B. Johnson gave the pen with which he signed the bill to the Eagles, saying, "You Eagles started this whole drive against up per age limits in hiring and firing."

There is much more to be said about Eagle programs and projects in people-helping-people areas.

Eagle-aided homes for children across the continent. Eagle-care vocational schools in over 30 foreign lands... the Eagle retirement village in Florida... over ten million dollars donated for heart and cancer, diabetes and kidney research... and community-serving programs at the local level in every home town with an Eagle lodge.

2 charged in Venice disturbance

Pearlie Hyster, 28, of 126 Lee Wright Homes, Venice, and Larry Williams, 35, of 163 Lee Wright Homes, Venice, were both charged by Venice police after a disturbance broke out at Miss Hyster's residence last week.

When police arrived at Miss Hyster's residence, she told them she wanted Williams to leave. At that point she and Williams began to argue and she allegedly started waving a butcher knife around. Police told her to put the knife down, at which point Williams began to fight with police officers.

Williams was placed under arrest and handcuffed. He allegedly had to be forcibly put into the squad car and allegedly bit and kicked a police officer in the process.

Williams was charged with disorderly conduct, battery and two counts of resisting arrest. He was confined in the Venice Jail.

Miss Hyster was charged with disobeying an officer and was released on a $32 cash bond.

Warriors qualify two for state mat tourney

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record
GRANITE CITY — Tom Sparks,
Granite City High School's 138-pound wrestler, has earned a trip to the NCAA Wrestling Championships in East Rutherford, New Jersey, next month. But more importantly, the sophomore Warrior grappler has earned a trip to the Illinois State that Sparks had waited nearly six minutes for Coleman ducked his head and enabled Sparks to roll over putting Coleman in a near-fall position.

It wasn't the famed Grapby Roll.
It was different. Coleman ducked.
Sparks rolled and somehow Sparks was on top. And Coleman, now on the bottom, knew he was in trouble.
Two seconds. Referee award

"There wasn't any denying. He wanted to win and he found it in himself to do so. I think that was evident in his match against Potts. He tied the thing up and then won it in overtime."

Bill Schmitt
Warrior wrestling coach

Wrestling Championships which begins this Thursday in Champaign.
How could a high school sophomore earn a trip to the NCAA Wrestling Tournament in the Meadowlands, March 8-10? That's easy. A simple wager with his father, Tom Sparks Sr. did the trick.
Explanation: It's Saturday afternoon, Tom Sparks Jr., a third-place finisher in the Edwardsville Regional, prepares to wrestle for third place in the Granite City High School Sectional Tournament. A victory in the third-place match is Sparks' only ticket to the state tournament this weekend. And as it turned out, it was also his pass to the NCAA National Wrestling Tournament.

Tom Sparks Sr., a wrestling enthusiast himself, looking to inspire his son's performance in the coming finals tells Sparks Jr. if he wins he'll take him to the NCAA Nationals next month.

Sparks Jr. wins. The trip, as promised, is in the planning.
Over-simplified? Perhaps.
And it certainly lacks the emotions which surrounded the corner of Memorial Gymnasium where the Sparks Sr. and watching members of the Warrior wrestling team cheered, celebrated and congratulated Tom Sparks Jr. after defeating East St. Louis Lincoln's Jesse Coleman for the third-place medal at 138 pounds.

Also, it wasn't so much Sparks' victory, but moreover the way he did it.

Sparks, trailing 7-6 in the waning moments of the third period in his match with Coleman, appeared to be running out of time in his comeback from behind quest for third place.

Coleman was riding Sparks as he had for much of the third period. The second clock reached 10 seconds and Coleman was still in control.

Seven seconds. Coleman was still in control.

Five seconds. Coleman was still riding Sparks.

Then with three seconds left, Coleman made a fateful mistake — one

Sparks a two-point near fall and an 8-7 victory.

Pack the bags for Champaign.

"There just wasn't any denying him," said Warrior Coach Bill Schmitt after the match. "He wanted to win and he found it in himself to do so. I think that was evident in his match against (Carbondale's Mike) Potts. He tied the thing up and then won it in overtime."
The same was true in this match. He wanted it more than the others," Schmitt said referring to Sparks' opponents.

In the mayhem after the match
there were tears, tears of joy.
Sparks' little brother was overcome with tears in his brother's victory.

Tom Sparks Sr., realizing that he'd now have to make good on his promise, appeared more than happy to do so.

"It's worth it," Sparks Sr. said.

"It's well worth it."

After receiving congratulatory handshakes from friends and family, Sparks Jr. discussed the match.

"Honestly, I felt happy just to have gotten out of the regionals.

But I'm happy to have won here. I feel like I've beaten (Roxana's Brad) Ruden."

Ruden, the 138-pound winner at the Edwardsville Regional, defeated Sparks last weekend but was eliminated by Coleman in the sectional.

"I really don't think it dawned on me yet just what's happened," Sparks said. "It was a good close match and I'm glad I was able to pull it out."

"The move was more his doing," Sparks' father said. "He put his head down and all I did was drive him to the mat, roll and turn. He made the mistake," Sparks said.

It was a stirring finish to an otherwise disappointing weekend for the Warrior wrestling team in the sectional. Only two Warriors — Sparks and his 98-pound teammate Jeff Cotter — were place finishers and will make the annual pilgrimage to the University of Illinois' Assembly Hall for the annual Illinois State High

MAT TURNAROUND. Granite City High School's 138 pounder Tom Sparks battles East St. Louis Lincoln's Jesse Coleman during their third-place match Saturday in the Granite City High School Sectional. Sparks managed a two-point near fall in the waning seconds of the match to defeat

Coleman and earn a berth in this weekend's Illinois State High School Wrestling Tournament in Champaign. Sparks' teammate, Jeff Cotter, at 98 pounds, also qualified for the state tournament.

School Association Wrestling Tournament.

Cotter, a junior, finished second at 98-pounds losing 2-0 to Carbondale's Eric Walker. Through a scoreless first period, Walker managed a reversal of Cotter at the 3:05 mark for the match's only points.

Cotter overcame a sore knee to finish second last weekend in the Edwardsville Regional as well.

Disappointing — was used to describe the Warriors' showing in the regional. Perhaps disappointing and disheartening would be better.

Neither Granite City's two regional champions, Mark Dowdy at 155 pounds and Greg Nemeth at 119 pounds, will advance to the state tournament. Both represented Granite City in the state tournament last year.

Dowdy, suffering a shoulder injury, lost a second-round 5-2 decision to Springfield Southeast's Jim Knox.
Before Knox was eliminated in the wrestlebacks by East St. Louis' Fred Williams. Dowdy wrestled just once.

Nemeth was edged in his first match by Lincoln High's Jay Leathers, 4-3. Leathers, Nemeth wrestled just once.

All first three finishers will advance to the state tournament beginning this Thursday in Champaign.

Man lost to Althoff's Joe Williams in first round action, a fall in 4:36. Williams finished second in last year's state tournament.
Williams eventually won the 105-pound sectional title.

Whitaker lost a first-round match to Springfield High's Dirk Florence.
Florence pinned the Warrior grappler in 2:43.

Knogl had an equally difficult time with Murphyboro's Chris Gilliam.
Gilliam outdistanced Knogl 8-6 in their first-round match before finishing fourth in the sectional.

All first three finishers will advance to the state tournament beginning this Thursday in Champaign.

Moore's strategy worked to perfection. For the remaining three minutes of the half, Althoff stopped
the Warrior surge while simultaneously racking up eight unanswered points breezing to a 36-25 half-time lead.

For all purposes, it was the beginning of the end. The Warriors never recovered.

"We knew if we could keep (Jeff) Cotter in check we could beat them," Moore said. "I think the only games
they've won this year is when Gray's scored 20 or more points."

"Admittedly though," Moore said,
"We've been off lately. Although this is probably the best we've played since we played them last at their place."

"Meyer was really doing his job for us tonight, but what really made the difference was Marchand,"
Moore said.

At halftime, Marchand had already accumulated 15 of his 25 points.

In the third quarter, Althoff came out gunning. Meyer took the opening tip to Dan Nester who sank a 20-foot jump shot to put Althoff ahead by 13, 38-25.

As the quarter progressed,
Althoff's domination became more evident with each tick of the clock.
Nester and Meyer each sank buckets to pad Althoff's lead. Four minutes into the quarter, Althoff managed six unanswered points.

Midway through the third quarter,

One final note on the sectional tournament. Last Tuesday, Carbondale Coach and former Granite City High wrestler Dennis Ragan was criticized by some area coaches for his strategy of forfeiting five matches to Roxana in team competition. Well, as they say only time will tell.

Saturday, Ragan and his Terriers were smiling at the scoff as they qualified more than any for the state tournament, four. Two firsts and two seconds in the sectional.

In Basketball Action Friday

Warriors fail to Crusaders

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

BELLEVILLE — Seeking their first winning basketball game since 1972, the basketball Warriors of Granite City High School came to a crossroad Friday night against Althoff.

If they won Friday their chances of finishing atop the Gateway East Conference were excellent. If they lost, however, their chances of winning the GEC were remote. For Coach Don Deterding and his squad it was perhaps their most important game of the season it was do or die.

But considering the importance of the game, the Warriors couldn't have been less prepared. Facing injuries and illnesses, the Warriors were not in the best position to defeat the Crusaders.

With each team in the conference
— Granite City, Cahokia, Edwardsville and Althoff — sharing identical records of 2-2, Friday's game was a "must" for the Warriors.

After trailing by a mere two points after the first quarter, 18-16, the Warriors' play deteriorated in the final three quarters and they eventually lost 81-51.

Unlike their first meeting this year, Friday's matchup lacked the intensity of that first Warrior-Crusader game on Feb. 3 in Granite City. In that contest, the Warriors mounted a second-half comeback to tie the game at 54 before losing to the Crusaders 59-55 in overtime.

Although there were similarities in each game, the differences far outnumbered the similarities. And this time, the differences favored

Althoff.

For the second time this season,
Warrior 6-foot 5-inch center, Scott Cant was sidelined. In the first contest, also against Althoff, Cant was battling the flu. Last Friday night Cant was again sidelined, this time for a sprained ankle.

To complicate matters — in addition to not having Cant — the flu bug which had bitten some team members last week and the week before was now working on the rest of the team. For one, Granite City's leading scorer, Jeff Gray, was battling.

"Sickness," Deterding began referring to his flu-riddled squad.
"That and not having Cant in there tonight really hurt us. I can't fault my kids because they weren't physically able to play, though. And, also, you have to give credit to Althoff for winning," Deterding said.

"We've just gotten (Kurt) Hylla back this week and then the others start coming down with it. We just weren't out."

And that's just how it appeared.
Granite City simply wore out as the game wore on.

The Warriors kept pace with the Crusaders throughout the first quarter, six to eight and 12 all — before Althoff pulled ahead 18-16 at the end of the first stanza.

From then on, things got increasingly worse for the Warriors. Aided by Curt Marchand, who led all scorers with 25 points, the Crusaders opened up an eight-point lead, 26-18, midway through the second quarter.

The Warriors, with efforts by Jeb Blasingame, (who played well in Cant's stead) Jeff Gray and Hylla, managed to cut the Crusader lead to three, 28-25, late in the second quarter. But Althoff's Coach Tim Moore, correctly reading the Warrior surge, put an end to it with about three minutes remaining in the half by calling a momentum-stopping time out.

Moore's strategy worked to perfection. For the remaining three minutes of the half, Althoff stopped
the Warrior surge while simultaneously racking up eight unanswered points breezing to a 36-25 half-time
lead.

For all purposes, it was the beginning of the end. The Warriors never recovered.

"We knew if we could keep (Jeff) Cotter in check we could beat them," Moore said. "I think the only games
they've won this year is when Gray's scored 20 or more points."

"Admittedly though," Moore said,
"We've been off lately. Although this is probably the best we've played since we played them last at their place."

"Meyer was really doing his job
for us tonight, but what really made the difference was Marchand,"
Moore said.

At halftime, Marchand had already accumulated 15 of his 25
points.

In the third quarter, Althoff came out gunning. Meyer took the opening tip to Dan Nester who sank a 20-foot
jump shot to put Althoff ahead by 13, 38-25.

As the quarter progressed,
Althoff's domination became more
evident with each tick of the clock.
Nester and Meyer each sank buckets
to pad Althoff's lead. Four minutes into the quarter, Althoff managed
six unanswered points.

Midway through the third quarter,

Art Williams picked up the Warriors' first points of the second half, banking jumper from the right side.

Althoff answered with another two points before Jeff Gray sank a pair of 15 footers, 46-31.

Despite the Warriors' offensive ineptness Friday, what was really hurting was its defense. Known as a defensive oriented club, the Warriors failed to live up to that reputation in the second half.

Meyer and Marchand penetrated the Warrior defense at will for the remainder of their time in the game.
By the end of the third quarter, the Crusaders improved their 11-point half-time lead to 15-point third-quarter lead. And things got worse.

Realizing the ineffectiveness of his ailing club, Deterding substituted early in the fourth quarter. Althoff, recognizing the opportunity to punish as well as defeat, continued its barrage. The Crusaders pounded the Warriors in the fourth quarter scoring 28 points, doubling Granite City's fourth quarter output of 14.

A minute and a half into the fourth quarter, Meyer bounced one off the glass to improve Althoff's lead to 20, 61-41. Moments later, Hylla picked up his fifth foul.

With 2:51 remaining, Blasingame picked up his fifth foul defending against Meyer who was attempting to score inside. Blasingame checked out and the lengthy Crusader sank both free throws to improve Althoff's lead to 25, 69-44.

Following a Crusader bucket from the right corner, Granite City's Gerald Booker managed to score from underneath, 71-46.

In Girls' Action Thursday Cagers come from behind; cap the Oilers

By PAULA WISE
Of the Press-Record
GRANITE CITY — The Granite City Warrior girls' basketball team, generally not known for their ability to come back, rallied in the second half last Thursday night to overcome a seven-point half-time deficit and defeat the Wood River Oilers 58-50. The win brought the Warriors' record to 6-8. The Oilers' record is now 5-11.

Things looked bad for the Warriors from the beginning when Oiler Ashley Hill sank a 20-foot shot at the buzzer to give Wood River a 12-8 lead after the first quarter.

The Warriors, who had played such a good offense game in their last outing against Belleville West, could not manage to score against the Oiler defense.

Warrior Coach Gordon Galbreath felt the Warrior problem was nervousness.

"We still didn't play well," said Galbreath after his team's victory. "The kids were tight. I could just feel it. Especially in the first half, they were as tight as a drum."

Lack of patience seemed to be another problem that plagued the Warriors as several unforced turnovers aided the Oilers in the first half.

"They get in such a big hurry. As soon as they get the ball they want to get rid of it," Galbreath said of his team. "They need to take a little more time and look for the open person."

In the second quarter it was anybody's game as the lead changed hands four times. The Warriors took the lead for the first time with 4:37 left in the half when Kathy Juzaszak sank a basket to make the score 18-16.

Two free throws by Paula Hodge put the Oilers back on top 19-18 with 2:35 left. Loretta Cox got the lead right back on the Warriors' next possession when she put in a shot from underneath the basket.

Although the Warriors were through with their scoring for the half, it appeared the Oilers had just begun. Eight straight points by the Oilers turned a 20-19 Granite City lead into a 27-20 Wood River lead at halftime. Again the Oilers had sunk a basket at the buzzer to contribute to their lead.

The Warriors looked like a different team when they stepped on the floor in the second half. A steal and easy lay up by Nancy McClew early in the second half brought the Warriors within two. Again a shot was sunk at the buzzer, but this time it was on the home team side of the scoreboard as Cox brought the Warriors within one, 28-29.

The fourth quarter looked to be a repeat of the second as the lead changed hands seven times in less than four minutes. It appeared the Warriors were in for trouble when leading scorer Lisa Lilley fouled out of the game with more than five minutes left.

However, the Warriors took the lead for good at 4:37 when McClew sank a jump shot putting the Warriors on top 44-44.

"Lisa turned her ankle in the third quarter. She couldn't maneuver too well after that. I thought we might be in trouble when she fouled out but the other girls picked up for her really well," Galbreath said of his top scorer.

The junior varsity Warriors also defeated the Oilers. However, the match was much closer as the Warriors won 40-38. Loretta Cox led all scorers with 12 points.

The varsity Warriors will be competing this week in the Collinsville Invitational Tournament. Their first game is tonight when they will face host team Collinsville in a 5:30 p.m. contest. The tournament will continue through Thursday.

In Cage Action Lanphier hands Devils seventh loss

By AL BARNES
for the Press-Record

SPRINGFIELD — Coach Clinton Harris, in his first year as head basketball mentor at Venice, Ill. High School, has put together a great opening campaign with a 15-7 record following his Red Devils' 87-78 loss to the Lanphier High Lions here Friday night.

Said Harris, "We have had some great games and victories this season, but I never have been prouder of my boys than in their loss to Lanphier here tonight. You must remember that Lanphier is the defending (1983) Illinois state high school basketball champion. With four of the players back on this year's team. And, yet my kids battled them right down to the wire and with 2:37 left on the clock we had two one and ones and a pair of possessions which could have given us the win." Pausing, he added: "Yes, I'm proud of them and so are their parents, and the whole town of Venice."

Lanphier played the game against Venice with their head coach, Bob Nika, in the hospital. Directing the Lions was assistant Al Gieseking, who was high in his praise for the Red Devils. "Venice gave us a real scare. It took an outstanding performance by our five starters to beat them," said coach Gieseking.

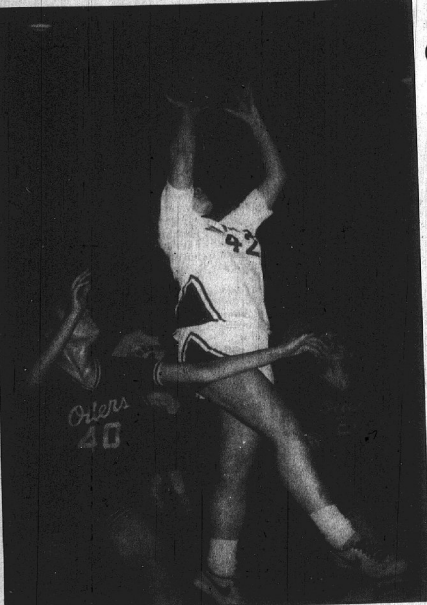

The assistant Lanphier coach was correct. He used just five players, but with Ed Horton hitting for a career high of 40 points, and the all-around Bob Nika, pouring in 24 points, the Lions had the answer for the threat posed by Venice. Clark Douglas, with nine points, Mike Craig adding five and Wally Ralid dropping in nine, Lanphier managed to hold out against the Red Devils.

Little Ed Salmond (32 points) and Phil White (24 points) and Charlie Milton (10 points) were the Red Devils' chief offensive weapons. Larry McChesney (four points), Craig Hamilton and Lonzie Helms (both with two points each) and Ricky King with four points completed Venice's scoring.

The Red Devils will finish their regular season with a pair of games this week. Tomorrow, Tuesday night, they'll be up at Highland to battle St. Paul High and the next evening, they'll return home to meet Worden High at the Red Devils' gym.

The Illinois Regional tournaments start the week of Feb. 27th. The Red Devils will open tourney play that night in the Dupuy gym taking on Walmeyer High.

"For the three remaining minutes, the game lacked defense. Although bolstered its final tally with 10 more points while the Warriors managed half as many, five.

The loss drops Granite City's record to 2-3 in the Gateway East Conference. The best the Warriors can hope for is a tie for the GEC crown.

But to achieve even a draw the Warriors must defeat Edwardsville this Friday. Althoff must lose to Cahokia and Cahokia must lose to Edwardsville. If that happens, the Warriors will tie for the conference title — with everyone else.

Bagging geese a different way

By AL BARNES
for the Press-Record

Hunting and fishing are two sports that I have had little or nothing to do with and, in the process down through more than 70 years of rather an active life, I've regretted more than once.

First, my three sons, Skeets (Al the Third), Michael and Foster, have silently rebuked me for not taking them fishing and hunting. These two sports are skills taught by their fathers, uncles or by older brothers.

Since I was raised at the Illinois Odd Fellows Orphans Home at Lincoln (1920 through 1927), the authorities there, of course, could not permit their 200 or more boys to be running off fishing and hunting without the proper supervision. Consequently, I never learned either to fish or hunt.

But, aside from that, there was another big reason for my not adopting the two sports. First, I couldn't figure that it was fair, in either fishing or hunting, for the man over the gun to have an animal against a man with all his artful lures, etc.?"

The odds against both the animal and the fish, to me, were simply not sporting. In the few times I've gone fishing, the only thing I've caught was mosquito bites. And, hunting wasn't any better.

Many of my sports reporter friends were also hunters. They constantly were on me to accompany them on hunting and shooting forays. Most of the time I refused. However, once when I was working on a newspaper at Cairo, Ill., which claims to be the Canadian Goose capital of the World, a banker from Chicago, who had started out in life as a reporter and then got smart, talked me into joining him in goose shooting at the famous Horse Shoe Lake in Alexander County.

"We got out to the blind and it was still dark and bitterly cold. The cold and biting wind, I can still remember."

When the official (and allowable) moment came to begin shooting, me and my friend had imbibed in liberal portions of Kentucky bourbon. I was in a pleasant haze, but not eager to fire at the beautiful geese all around our blind. But, the shotgun blasts from the blinds all around us made a racket much like the artillery barrage during the Battle of the Bulge.

Anyway, we returned to Cairo without even coming close to even getting a bird, let alone mention getting his or my "limit". That experience convinced me that goose shooting wasn't for me, and, not even for the birds.

However, I have good news for my friends and readers. Some years ago, right close to where I failed to even shoot at a goose, I did finally "take" my first and only Canadian goose.

My wife, Joyce, and I with the kids had been visiting my brother in Cairo right in the middle of the goose season. Along about four in the afternoon, we were headed north toward St. Louis and, as we drove by the wildlife refuge, a huge goose which had been feeding in a farmer's corn field alongside the state highway, decided to rejoin his friends on the lake and set his course which intercepted our car's progress.

I'll never forget my panic as the huge, it looked like a World War II bomber) goose headed straight toward our windshield. It happened so fast there was no way I could avoid hitting it. The bird's death plunge into my windshield made the car shudder and caused Joyce and the children to scream in fear. My first impulse was to drive on, but I stopped and picked the bird up and took him home to St. Louis. I didn't eat him, though.

The 1980-81 prosecutor spoke out last week in support of the Madison County Transit District's proposal to spend $1 million to improve streets that carry bus routes. However, an attorney general's ruling is being awaited by the County Board—on the advice of Weber's assistant, Marshall "Zeke" Smith.

ROBERT HARRIS, Board of Review chairman, is one of many who have been critical of the grand jury probe, saying the jurors apparently have been overlooking the officials who set and review assessments.

Many of the questions by jurors clearly defined for many years by Illinois state statutes, he added.

Weber, 35, who arrived in the county in 1981, said his staff this winter, announced his re-election bid in November.

Estimating that he could win, he said Democrats want so badly to beat him that they may spend twice that amount.

Crime and assessments are on the run in the county," Weber said in pledging that he will continue to take an aggressive approach in his job.

VIGOROUS prosecution and sound police are helping to rid the county of criminals, leading to a lower number of major crimes, he is convinced.

Aided by revised state penalties and a crime crackdown by Third Circuit judges, prosecution by Weber and his staff has seen murder sentences rise from 19 years to an average of 37 years. Rape prison terms are averaging 18 years, deviate sexual assault 15 years and burglary sentences five years.

Arsonists, also, had better ply their trade elsewhere, he indicated.

Weber obtained death sentences against three armed robbers, all of whom he said he had in the county, alleged to have slain at least seven persons, and Larry Joe Adams of Alton, who killed a pharmacist in the process of a robbery.

Emphasizing that he is not only hard-working but innovative, Weber says his staff used new legal theories to handle the case against a man who caused a two-fatality crash while fleeing from police, and against a man who beat and raped a woman.

He told the Press-Record, "As state's attorney, my goals would be: 1. Full-time employees. There would be no part-time assistants. The state's attorney's office is the 'law firm' that advises and represents all of the citizens and officials. It is not a part-time job. It is a full-time job.

2. Computerization of all cases for ease of docket control.

3. REDUCTION of large docket calls by use of daily negotiations and background checks to make the assistant more effective.

4. Seven days a week, 24 hours a day availability of at least one assistant state's attorney to assist the sheriff's office and local police.

5. Request Lewis and Clark Community College to allow students in law enforcement program to gain credit hours by working in the state's attorney's office at no pay.

6. Request assistance from local industries through time-release of executives in the areas of computerization, personnel management, and management organization.

7. Assign one assistant state's attorney as a full-time legal advisor to the various elected and appointed officials, the County Board and County Board committees.

8. ROTATE ASSISTANTS in civil and criminal areas so that the entire staff will have the needed expertise and experience to handle all assignments.

Heil commented to the Press-Record, "Mr. Weber has asserted that his administration has increased sentences. This is not true. The judges, not the state's attorney, do the sentencing. Mr. Weber has not sentenced anyone; only judges pass sentence.

"My opponent has not decreased violent crime. In fact, several bizarre murders have taken place during his administration.

"He may have prosecuted the offenders, but he did nothing to keep the crimes from happening.

"The double-celling lawsuit (related to Madison County jail inmates) that was fought by Mr. Weber was at the insistence of the County Board and not Don Weber.

"In fact, his assistants originally tried to get the board to agree to quit double-bunking of prisoners. When the board refused, the state's attorney was compelled to fight. The County Board was right; the case was one that could be won.

"MY PRIMARY election opponent has asserted that county deputy cars are bought in Illinois because of his efforts. The truth is that they are bought in Illinois because the County Board refused to authorize the purchase of cars from Missouri. I was on the board when it took place, and I personally voted against purchasing cars from Missouri.

"All of the offices of the county are rated in importance by the County Board and not by Don Weber. The voting has nothing to do with Mr. Weber.

"He has asserted that the board has consistently voted the state's attorney's staff out of the board. But the board has not voted Don Weber as one of the four most important public officials. It is the office, not the man, that is important.

"The only person who has consistently said that Don Weber is a good state's attorney is Don Weber.

"A SECOND OPINION is what we need, from the voters. By having another candidate in the race, we can get that opinion," Heil said.

He added that he hopes to get the backing of independents and Democrats as well as Republicans but that his candidacy was not orchestrated by Democratic officials.

"Democratic friends were among those who helped circulate petitions for me. They recognize quality when they see it. I'm trying to appeal to everyone."

More than half of his filing petition signatures were from the Quad-City area.

HEIL SAID his brother, Gilbert, worked for the Board of Review and thus knows Barton, but that this had no influence on his candidacy.

Heil thinks that Barton type is being injected into the campaign by Chairman Ragdsdale because Republicans are desperate to find some reason to oppose him: "They found nothing bad to say about me, and they certainly can't say I'm being investigated by a grand jury."

Heil acknowledged friendship with Republican Pinck. Heil said he supported Pinck's appointment to the board of review and the two worked together in the successful effort to oppose incorporation of Godfrey two years ago.

THE CHALLENGER sees Weber as vulnerable because of the special grand jury being convened to study his activities, the fact that Weber's wife appears to be being retained on the payroll, and because of the dismissal of the Barton case.

Weber disagrees, saying, "If Republicans are so concerned about their primary with just Republicans, I'll win by a landslide.

"The only thing that Democrats money being put in to get Democrats to cross over and knock me off in the primary. It's not illegal, but it's not right.

"Democrats want to make me spend money in the primary.

"THEY DON'T want me to have the other side to support. Dick Allen (Democratic and independent votes in the fall.)

Barton's comment: "I'm a Democrat. I support Dick Allen (unopposed in the Democratic primary) for state's attorney. I have nothing to do with Heil's campaign."

Dr. Ragdsdale, admitting he is taking sides before the nominating process has run its course, sums up his attitude as follows:

"I know of only a few Republicans who support Heil. Weber has done a fine job, showing integrity, ability and forcefulness in dealing with crime and corruption. It is important for all of the people to be able to have confidence in citizens' rights and citizens' access to equal justice."

Juries adding spice

COUNTY VOTERS should return him to office in 1984, Weber says, because "I have an established, proven record for effectiveness."

"I am not only a known quantity, but one who has produced results that the public needs."

"I was elected by people who were fed up with being raped, robbed, burglarized or otherwise preyed upon by criminals."

The trend has been reversed and it is now the criminals who are afraid of law enforcement and the speedy and sure implementation of justice."

WEBER WANTS wants his re-election hopes decided by local voters, not by individuals like Cueto. The candidate adds:

St. Clair County Democrats always demonstrate themselves to be "carpetbaggers."

"That has been a 'bottom line' even on gutter politics, but it has been exceeded," he says in answering attacks that try to hint at misdeeds.

A final salvo: Madison County now ranks 19th in violent crimes in the state. St. Clair, a county of comparable size, is third highest in the prevalence of violent crimes.

Weber was so displeased with Costello's momentary candidacy that he endorsed Gov. Melvin Price for renomination in the Democratic primary. However, Weber reserved the right to back a Republican in November.

THE PROSECUTOR himself has the endorsement of all district Republican chairmen, including Robert Harris of Granite City, Mike Nance in Nameoki Township, and Bob Mattingly in Heil's home township of Godfrey.

County GOP Chairman Edward Ragdsdale says joyfully that the endorsements are "an extraordinary display of unity."

Heil always outspoken while a County Board member, acknowledges that his own party leaders oppose him but says he is highly capable and has a good chance of winning.

"I'm not casting aspersions against Don Weber, but I wouldn't be in the race if I didn't think I could run the office as well or better than him."

"He is a good man and he has worked hard. I want the job and I intend to wage a clean, hard-fought campaign," Heil tells audiences.

"I AM RUNNING for the office because I believe I can do a better job than the present state's attorney."

He points out that he is a former prosecutor of felony crimes and says he also has the experience to handle the office's civil duties more effectively than the incumbent.

Heil told the Press-Record, "As state's attorney, my goals would be: 1. Full-time employees. There would be no part-time assistants. The state's attorney's office is the 'law firm' that advises and represents all of the citizens and officials. It is not a part-time job. It is a full-time job.

FINDS OVERHEAD DOOR

OPEN AT CGC STATION

An observant officer on patrol noticed an overhead door on the east side of Hutchings Pina Service Station, 1420 N. Nicholas Ave., was open at 3:40 a.m. Saturday.

Officers searched the building and the owner, Rich Hutchings, was notified and said nothing appeared to be missing.

It was noted, however, the doors had been opened on two trucks inside the garage. The vehicles belong to Junesau Associates, Inc., and LKV Construction Co. Representatives of the firms were to be contacted to determine if any items were taken from the vehicles, reports said.

Energy foundation gets $51,900 grant from Panhandle Eastern

The Energy Assistance Foundation has received a grant of $51,900 from Panhandle Eastern Pipeline Company.

Illinois Power Company has agreed to match the $51,900 grant to aid the foundation in its efforts to assist needy customers in better management of their utility bills.

John Cheeks, president of the Energy Assistance Foundation, expressed the organization's thanks for the gifts. "This contribution from Panhandle Eastern Pipeline Company and the matching gift from Illinois Power will enable the foundation to continue its efforts in providing energy conservation education, practices and materials to help the needy in combating high utility bills."

The Energy Assistance Foundation provides funds to cooperating local organizations to help financially-distressed people to better manage their energy consumption and resulting high utility bills. The foundation was created in 1982 by a group of civic and business leaders with an initial grant of $250,000 from Illinois Power Company. The utility pledged to match other contributions to the foundation, up to an additional $250,000.

In Granite City, the foundation works through Coordinated Youth Services in weatherizing the homes of needy residents.

Grant to retrain dislocated workers

A $1 million federal grant has been awarded to Illinois for training of "dislocated workers" to be hired by firms expanding or locating in one of the state's eight Enterprise Zones, the Department of Commerce and Community Affairs (DCCA) has announced.

The money comes from a grant by the U.S. Department of Labor under Title III of the Job Training Partnership Act (JTPA) which provides training and other services to individuals who have lost their jobs due to plant closings and layoffs, exhausted their Unemployment Insurance benefits, and who are not likely to return to their previous jobs due to industry changes. DCCA applied for this money to be used specifically in this way.

The Dislocated Workers Centers will use the money to subsidize the training for jobs created in Enterprise Zones.

"Enterprise Zones have helped Illinois retain 2,000 jobs that may have otherwise left the state and are helping to create hundreds more," said DCCA Director Michael T. Woelfler. "With this money, we can now provide direct training assistance in the zones, enhancing the overall program."

Half of the grant will be used by the two Chicago area zones in cooperation with the Dislocated Workers Centers that serve those areas. The remaining $500,000 will be used by the Rockford, Joliet, Peoria, Decatur, Canton and East St. Louis Enterprise Zones in conjunction with local worker centers.

The centers will screen applicants and work with employers to determine training needs and costs. The centers will then work with businesses to determine the type of training needed, develop a training plan and contract, refer eligible workers to the business and supervise the training.

Last July, Governor James R. Thompson designated eight Enterprise Zones. State incentives include, an investment tax credit, state sales tax credit on building materials, special income tax breaks and other benefits. Some local incentives include property tax abatements, waiver of certain fees, codes and permits, special financing programs and other benefits.

Another eight zones will be designated by July 1. Similar training funds will be sought for these zones.

The 15 Dislocated Workers Centers provide comprehensive employment and training programs that include counseling, job search assistance, and relocation assistance throughout the state.

Discount brokerage plan at GC Trust and Savings Bank

Full discount brokerage services are now being provided by Granite City Trust and Savings Bank through Olde & Company, Inc., a member of the New York Stock Exchange. President Drew Karandjoff has announced.

The new program has been designed to help independent investors maximize investment dollars with exceptional commission savings on stock, bond and option transactions. "When you do your own research and don't need high-priced advice, you deserve commission savings," Karandjoff said.

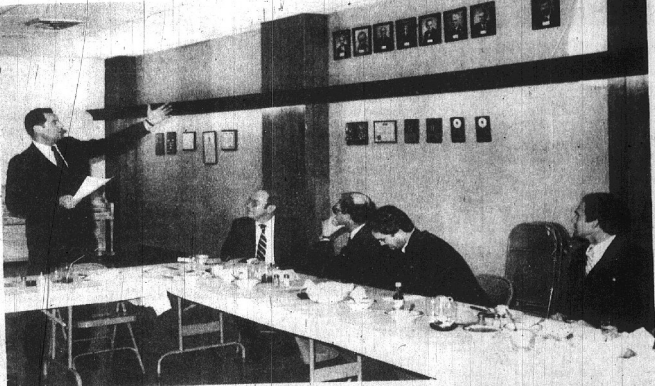

He indicated that commission savings of up to 90 percent on brokerage transactions are possible. "The new discount brokerage service is available to anyone of age who completes a brokerage account application which is approved by Olde & Co., Inc., according to the bank's investment counselors."

Clinton will save customers $9 million

Completion of Clinton Unit 1 will save Illinois Power Co. electric customers $9 billion over the life of the plant as compared to the cost of halting construction and building replacement fossil-fueled electric generating facilities. This conclusion is the result of a study completed by the company.

Work at Clinton is progressing on a full construction schedule. The company is reiterating its commitment to meet the current schedule for constructing a safe, reliable nuclear generating plant.

When completed, the Clinton power plant will supply one-fourth of the electric energy needs of Illinois Power's 330,000 customers.

If construction were halted, the company would have to rely more heavily on electric generating facilities fueled by oil and natural gas in the short term, and would need to purchase additional generating capacity starting in 1988 to meet the energy needs of its customers, a spokesman said.

Summer peak energy requirements of the company's customers have grown at an annual rate of 2.6 percent over the past five years, a period when there has been a recessionary U.S. economy.

The cost and completion schedule estimates used in the study are currently being evaluated by Ebasco Services, Inc., a consultant retained by the company to independently review the reasonableness of its estimates for the completion of Clinton Unit 1. The evaluation will be ready by April 1. As part of its work, Ebasco will evaluate the licensing process for Clinton.

Families sought for visiting European high school students

American families are needed for European high school students from Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Finland, Great Britain, Switzerland and Germany for the 1984-85 high school year. The American Scandinavian Student Exchange program (ASSE), affiliated with the Swedish and Finnish Departments of Education, advises. Interested parties may contact John and Rita Young, 616 Washington St., Charles, Mo. 63301, telephone: 1-314-723-4845. Letters must contain the writer's address and telephone number.

"ASSE's high standards assure a quality experience for all participating families and students," says ASSE Midwest Regional Director Warren Calkins. All students are carefully screened in Europe by their schools and the local ASSE office. All are fluent in English and have their own spending money and complete medical and liability insurance.

"ASSE provides support for families and students during the year through fully trained local volunteer area representatives available whenever needed. The students, ages 16 and 17, will arrive in late August 1984. They are eager to learn about America and experience living as part of a warm and loving American family. They will attend your local high school and return home to Europe in late June or early July 1985," a spokesman said.

Families with junior high school age children or younger and those with children no longer living at home are especially encouraged to apply.

ASSE also is seeking qualified American high school students, ages 16, 17 and 18, who would like to spend a high school year attending school and living with a Scandinavian, Swiss, British or German family, or take part in a six-week family stay in Scandinavia or Germany during the summer of 1984.

Q: My young son, who began a coin collection about a year ago, asked me a question I can't answer. What happened to the Susan B. Anthony coin which caused such a furor several years ago?
A: About 322 million Susan B. Anthony dollars have been put into general circulation since minting of the coins first began in 1979. The furor with the Anthony dollar was people just weren't using them much, probably because they were no nearly the size of a 25-cent piece they were often confused. The U. S. Mint ceased producing the coin in March of 1980. The Mint, in fact, still has in excess of 500 million in stock which have never been circulated. If you son would like to obtain one or more of the Susan B. Anthony coins for his collection, your first stop would be your bank. If, however, your bank does not have any of these coins on hand, you might try either a coin shop or go directly to the source: The Federal Reserve.

Nameeki faces deadline of March 2 for audit report

By PAT HAY LUTZ
for the Press-Record

Debate over the delinquency of the 1983 audit report for Nameeki Township dominated the regular meeting of the town board last week. Clerk Lee Ridgeway read a letter from the John Degan accounting firm which stated that the report would be finished by the end of this week or the beginning of next week.

Supervisor Harry Briggs received the first letter of delinquency in October 1983 and stated that he has until March 2 to submit the report. According to Briggs, new forms and procedures utilized in preparing the report have caused the delay and stressed that he is not at fault for the delinquency.

"I have heard a very vicious rumor that I have something to hide, and that is not true," he said. "I have nothing to hide and I call these accountants just about every day to see what's going on. I can't do anything until they give me the report. It's not my fault that they are so late. I can't do anything about it and I have tried, believe me. They have assured me that it will be in by the end of this week, the beginning of next week at the latest," he added.

A letter from Trustee Helen Hawkins to the board outlined the dates of public and private requests for a copy of the audit since July 1983 and pointed to a Press-Record article in which John Stevens, acting legal counsel in the legal affairs division of the state comptroller's office, was quoted as saying that the township was delinquent in submitting the report and had been notified of that delinquency.

Also, in a letter to the township dated Feb. 1, Kent A. Peterson, deputy director of the Office of Revenue Sharing in Washington, D.C., warned, "Delay of your April payment is currently being considered as a result of failure to file the above mentioned reports. If your payment is delayed, it will not be considered for release until the next quarterly payment in July."

"I think that the board should have been notified of these notices," Mrs. Hawkins said. "We are being told time and again that the report will be in 'by the end of the week' and we have yet to see it. They (the comptroller's office) will order another audit and we might lose our revenue sharing funds if we don't get this report in." Mrs. Hawkins said.

Briggs admitted that if the report is not submitted by March 2, a state audit might be ordered that the revenue sharing funds may be lost. "If we don't get it in by March 2, they'll do it (order the audit)," he said. "If it isn't in by that time, it (revenue sharing) is in jeopardy," he agreed.

On a motion by Trustee W. Lee Adams, the board voted to advertise for bids to prepare the 1984 audit and stipulated that the work should be done within 120 days to avoid similar complications on this year's audit.

In other business, board members passed a resolution which requests that "legislators inquire as to whether the Illinois Commerce Commission and the Environmental Protection Agency could provide some kind of input to help" solve a potential water contamination problem in Arlington Heights. Residents have applied to receive city water for several years because they fear a contamination problem due to the high water table in their area.

Representatives from Arlington Heights requested the resolution, saying that it may improve their chances of getting city water.

The resolution also is being sent to State Senator Sam Vadalabene (D-Edwardsville) and State Representative Sam Wolf (D-Granite City).

Other resolutions passed by the board included the transfer of $1,025 from the contingencies fund into utilities and $900 from contingencies to social programs for the aged. Trustee Adams informed board members that three organizations have requested federal revenue sharing funds and indicated that the finance committee will endorse their requests. Programs and Services for Older Persons of Belleville Area College requested $1,500 for the Senior Aids program and Adam stated that the program has been supported in previous years and should receive funds again this year.

The Arlington Heights Civic Association requested assistance to help them obtain city water and Wiltshire residents requested a project to alleviate drainage problems in their area.

Clerk Lee Ridgeway also informed the public that the Easter Seal Society will sponsor free speech and hearing screening from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Friday, Feb. 17, at the Department of Rehabilitation, 3675 Nameeki Road. The speech screening will be available for preschoolers and victims of stroke, while the hearing screening is available for anyone over 24 months of age. Anyone requiring more information on the free screening may contact the Alton office at 1-462-8897.

Charge man, 19, in robbery case

Gordon B. Shepard, 19, of Springfield, Ill., was charged with armed robbery in an informational document issued last week through the Madison County state's attorney's office to Granite City police. Bond was set at $100,000.

The felony charge resulted from an incident at 9:10 p.m. Tuesday when an officer was dispatched to a reported disturbance near 19th and Benton streets. He arrived at the scene within 20 seconds and reported seeing two men standing in front of Larry Warden of the 2100 block of Bryan Avenue.

When first seen by the officer, one man allegedly was holding Warden's wrist and ran toward the 7-Eleven Store upon the squad car's arrival. A foot pursuit ensued with the man, later identified as Shepard, chased around the 7-Eleven Store and back toward 19th and Benton streets. He was captured by a police sergeant behind Earl's Sporting Goods at 19th and Cleveland Boulevard.

The second man fled along 19th Street toward Cleveland and escaped.

Warden alleged to officers that Shepard walked up to him and asked for money. When the victim said he didn't have any cash, Shepard allegedly pulled out a knife, threatening to cut Warden if he didn't comply.

Shepard allegedly grabbed Warden's right wrist, cutting him between the ring and middle fingers on his right hand. A half-inch-long cut was sustained by the victim, reports noted.

Warden further alleged that Shepard took his watch from his left wrist. The watch later was found in the alleged assailant's coat pocket at police headquarters, it was alleged.

Shepard also was charged with resisting arrest. At 9:55 p.m. Tuesday, the Springfield man was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center, where he declined treatment and was returned to police custody.

ARREST AT LOCKER ROOM

Alan L. Schubert, 17, of 2612 Fortune Drive, a student, was arrested recently for allegedly possessing cannabis in a gymnasium locker room at Granite City High School.

Amvets Auxiliary 51 hosts Valentine event

Amvets Post 51 at 5100 Lakeview Drive, was the scene of a Valentine Day spaghetti dinner and party held as a weekend event for members and guests.

During the evening festivities, which featured games and a cake contest, a new king and queen of hearts was selected. The outgoing royal pair, Joseph White and Betty Wilkins crowned the new couple, Earl and Marge Smith and also presented them with gifts provided by the auxiliary.

A special presentation by Child Welfare chairman, Jenny Kidwell, was a $100 donation to a special child who was born with Down's Syndrome. The child and his mother were guests of honor for the evening. The young boy is presently recuperating from recent hip replacement surgery and the money is to help defray some of the expense incurred during his hospitalization, Mrs. Kidwell explained.

The Auxiliary members requested and received a grant from the Department's "Target Dottle" fund for this purpose. The fund is a special allotment used solely for child welfare programs, she added. During a regular scheduled meeting of the auxiliary, the group agreed to send contributions to Freedom Foundation, the Carillon Fund and the Dream Factory.

Senior Vice President Barbara Siebert, protom officer for the night, called the meeting to order and the opening prayer was read by Chaplain Betty Clements. The pledge of allegiance was led by acting sergeant-at-arms, Shirley Schenck.

After registering the roll call of officers and the reading of the minutes, Secretary Charlotte Toregrossa read letters of appreciation from the Madison County Shelter Care Home for the donation of a coffee maker, from a veteran for a Christmas package and from Boy Scout Troop 55 for a monetary donation and the presentation of an American flag.

A financial report was given by Brenda White, treasurer.

President Glenda Brockman, who was ill at home, asked that Mrs. Siebert relay her appreciation to all auxiliary members who prepared and served food for the Past Commanders and Auxiliary Presidents Reunion held at the post home on Feb. 5. Mrs. Siebert, also membership chairman, announced the auxiliary now has 29 renewals, two new members and one life member.

Mrs. Kidwell, community service chairman, informed the group of an ice cream social to be held at the Shelter Care Home in Edwardsville.

Seven get well cards and one sympathy card were mailed during the month. Mrs. Clements informed the members.

Hospital Chairman Alberta Manning discussed the monthly parties for the patients at John Cochran V.A. Medical Center. She commended Amvets Post 51 and Amvets Post 51 member, Floyd Tucker, for their assistance to auxiliary members Glenda Brockman, Charlotte Toregrossa, Ann Tucker and herself with the party for the VA patients.

Mrs. Manning also noted she and Mrs. Clements, Mr. and Mrs. Tucker, will distribute arts and crafts to all patient floors at John Cochran and will also help with the festivities planned for the patients during the National Salute for Hospitalized Veterans.

In other announcements, Mrs. Manning reported that Post 51 purchased a saber saw for a resident of the Illinois Veterans Home in Quincy to help him with craft projects and other members of Post 51 sent the same resident clothing and cookies.

Appreciation was also accorded to Mrs. Siebert for shopping for numerous toilet articles, cards, writing materials, razors, pens, pens and other items that were sent to the Illinois Veterans Home.

Serve Our Servicemen Chairman, Care and Americanism Chairman, Betty Wilkins, reported delivering a large amount of CUPS-O-Soup packages to the USA at Lambert Field.

She also informed the members she received permission from the city to conduct Memorial Day services at the city hall of Granite City.

Ways and Means Chairman Brenda White announced the bakeless bake sale was a success and the next fund raiser, a crazy auction, is set for the auxiliary's next family day potluck dinner.

Mrs. Manning, who also is the Junior Anniversaries advisor, noted the group sent a $15 donation to the World Scholarship Fund and is planning on purchasing a Queen Coupon Book for the patients at John Cochran.

A discussion on the Salute to Hospitalized Veterans was led by Mrs. Tucker and those present voted to donate $25 for the "salute" fund.

Mrs. Wilkins was appointed to fill the sergeant-at-arms office due to the resignation of Donna Warfield who is moving out of town.

Vietnam vets urged to join in the Agent Orange survey

The Illinois Agent Orange Study Commission, chaired by Representative John T. O'Connell (D-Western Springs), is encouraging all Vietnam veterans to participate in the Commission's Vietnam Veterans Agent Orange Survey.

The survey will help the Illinois Agent Orange Study Commission and the Illinois Department of Veterans Affairs to compile data regarding health trends in the Illinois Vietnam veteran and to create a Vietnam Veterans Register.

The survey is part of the commission's response to Vietnam veterans who have complained of a multitude of persistent, and sometimes undiagnosable, health problems since they served in Vietnam.

The dioxin-contaminated defoliant Agent Orange is believed to be the culprit in causing such health problems as soft tissue cancers, skin conditions, nervous disorders, liver and kidney problems, miscarriages, birth defects and other complaints.

Vietnam veterans, whether healthy or not, are being urged to participate in this survey. The questionnaire may be obtained at the nearest field office of the Illinois Department of Veterans Affairs, or by writing the Illinois Agent Orange Study Commission, room 1107, Stratton Office Building, Springfield, Ill. 62706. This survey now is available.

Vets who participate in this survey are assured confidentiality, which is indicated on the survey.

Area DVA offices are at 215 Plaza in Alton, telephone 1-465-3216, and 10 Collinsville Ave., East St. Louis, phone 875-5300.

SIUE summer camp teaches writing skills

If the movie "Meatballs" is your idea of a happy summer camp, then the Summer Writing Day Camp at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville is not for you.

On the other hand, the intensive writing and recreational summer program for youths from 8 to 15 has a plentiful store of exciting, challenging experience to offer, according to Project Director Eugene Violette, instructor of English at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

"THE CAMPERS will have one basic focus—to write clearly, coherently and correctly," Violette explains. "The program is set up to take advantage of all the assets the university has to offer."

"Campers may want to boat on Tower Lake, or they might be more interested in the fine crafts shop. Some may be interested in the water treatment program of the Environmental Resources Training Center, while others might be attracted by our outstanding graphics operation. We hope to have them exploring every nook and cranny of the institution," he said.

"All of their recreation which they will pursue with a teacher who has recently worked to upgrade his or her own skills in teaching writing, will look to the fundamental purpose of the camp. It will offer experiences as grist for the writing mill."

ALL THE instructional sessions will be devoted to writing, and each camper should finish a complete project each day. Teaching will not be restricted to giving assignments and correcting them, but each instructor, who will have only six or seven students, will also discuss the entire process of the act of writing.

"This, of course, involves some thinking beforehand," Violette points out. "To write well, you should have a clear idea of what is to be said. This is not an 'artsy' kind of operation. Each of the two classes each day will emphasize the practical, useful ways to produce what we call 'a coherent act of writing in syntactic form.'"

"That means that we won't be discussing rules of grammar per se. But with out strong teacher-student ratio, we can make sure mistakes are immediately identified and corrected. When the camper takes home his daily writing project, it will be finished and clear."

ALL THE instructors in the camp are experienced, presently active teachers in elementary or secondary schools in Madison and St. Clair Counties. They have all been involved in the Mississippi Valley Writing Project, which is the regional affiliate of the National Writing Project in the Mississippi Valley.

The regional project came about through Mary Ann Shaw, wife of SIU System Chancellor Kenneth Shaw; she first drew attention to the national project in the area of writing. Education picked up on the idea, Violette noted. "In a five-week session here, teachers were actually asked to write themselves. So we have teachers who have recently sought to sharpen their own writing skills through actual practice."

Enrollment for the SIUE Summer Writing Day Camp is limited to 50, with tuition set at $90. The two-week session is designed to parallel the dates of the first of four two-week sessions of the Summer Computer Day Camp, so that interested students will have three remaining opportunities to work with computers if they so desire.

THE DAILY schedule starts with classroom writing development from 9 to 10:30 a.m., followed by campus recreation until noon. Lunch runs from noon to 12:30 in the University Center cafeteria. From 12:30 to 2 p.m., there is another session of classroom writing development, with afternoon recreation completing the day from 2 to 3:30 p.m.

The luncheon menu has not been completed, so it is not known whether it will include meatballs. That would be the only time anything of that nature will be found at this day camp, which will combine work and play for a much more practical purpose, Violette said.

Participants will produce two oil paintings. They will learn to arrange subject matter as well as learn how to do preliminary and working drawings for their paintings.

STUDENTS bringing a 20" by 24" sketch pad, a compressed charcoal pencil and an eraser. The remainder of the materials needed will be discussed in the first class.

The class will be taught by John Bjerkie of St. Louis, a senior artisan at Mark Twain Banquets. Cost is $25 plus supplies. To register, students may call Granite City Center, 931-0600.

Stringberg plays presented at SIUE

"The Stronger" and "Miss Julie," two plays by the Swedish dramatist August Strindberg, will be performed by the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville University Theater, opening Thursday, Feb. 23, with curtain at 8:15 p.m.

Additional performances will be given at 8:15 p.m. Friday and Saturday, Feb. 24 and 25, and on Sunday, Feb. 26, at 2 p.m. All performances will be presented in the Communications Building Theater on the Edwardsville campus. Parking is free behind the theater building on nights of performance. For reservations and ticket information, interested persons may call 1-682-2773.

ACCLAIMED Sweden's most influential 19th century dramatist, Strindberg wrote over 50 plays. He explored unorthodox, even controversial topics centering on what he saw as the never-ending battle of the sexes. Three times married and divorced, he used much of his own life as the basis for his dramas.

"The Stronger," an extended dramatic monologue, deals with how a woman handles the sudden realization that her husband has had an affair with one of her acquaintances. "Miss Julie" focuses on the emotional distress of a young noblewoman who is seduced by one of her father's servants. Presented on the same program, the plays

Kimberly Smith and Yvonne Steel. Loretta Straubinger, Harold Tayman, Joe Thomason, Chris Valencia, William Vanzanti, Janette Vaughn, Paul Willis, Elaine Wilson and Robert Young.

Madison residents who received honors were: Margaret Champion, Venita Davenport, Terri Smith, Gilbert Taylor, Jeff Trebing and Kenneth Wise.

VENUE students who attained honors were Rosemary Echols and Douglas Rankin.

To be placed on the honor roll, a student must maintain at least a 3.0 average on a college's 4.0 system. High honors requires a 3.5 average.

serve to illustrate the playwright's conviction that the past lives on in the present.

The same three actors appear in each of the two plays. Rebecca K. Williams, Belleville, plays the talkative woman in "The Stronger" and Christine, the cook, in "Miss Julie." Marsha Fisher, Granite City, plays the listener in the first play and Julie in the second. Don Lamkin, St. Louis, is the waiter in

"The Stronger" and Jean, the valet, in "Miss Julie."

THE PRODUCTION is directed by VENUE students at SIUE. The production is part of a series of theater in the department of theater and dance. Sets are by Charles Otis Sweeney and lights are by David J. Sullivan, both faculty members in the department. Costumes are by John Pagan, the properties by Kathy McCarty, and the assistant director is K.C. Hager.

SIUE proposes tuition rate hike

A proposal for a 6.5-percent increase in tuition at Southern Illinois University in Fiscal Year 1985 is being considered by the SIUE Board of Trustees. The board received the proposal and will consider the matter for action on March 8 at the Edwardsville campus.

The increase is being proposed by SIUE administrators on the basis of IBHE (IBHE) recommendations for public universities, approved Jan. 16. The IBHE said a 6.5-percent increase in tuition is commensurate with the Higher Education Price Index for Fiscal Year 1985. The recommended increase would provide about $12.2 million of a total proposed increase of $73.3 million for public universities in FY-85. For the SIUE System, the increase would provide approximately $1.8 million, of which $1.1 million at Edwardsville would receive $223,600.

IF THE TUITION proposal is approved, the annual increases for full-time resident students at SIUE would be: undergraduate—$57.45; graduate—$61.50; and dental—$114. Currently, the respective rates are: $52, $95 and $1,731.

Since Fiscal Year 1972, tuition and required fees at SIUE have increased by 106.9 percent, while the increase in the Consumer Price Index has been 147 percent for the same period. SIUE officers said a review of tuition increase possibilities leaves no really desirable alternative.

They explained that IBHE budget formulation policies mandate a tuition increase derived from cost-of-living indexes and persistent inflation required persistent tuition increases in the IBHE budget recommendations.

SIUE has 14th senior citizen fair

The Gerontology Program and the Student Activities Office of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will conduct the 14th annual Senior Citizens Fair from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Monday, March 19, in the University Center.

One of the most important aspects of the fair is that it provides seniors with an opportunity to obtain information on social service agencies, health organizations and many other programs in the area that serve older adults. Entertainment also is featured.

THE USED piano gimmick. This is the story of the unexpected piano buyer who answers the ad "take over monthly payments on spinet console piano. Can't sell locally." You write and include your phone number. In a few days, a truck arrives at your home with a piano inside. The piano is not a brand you've heard of, but the clever salesman assures you it is a first quality instrument. After you succumb to his sales pitch, the piano is rolled into your living room, the salesman returns to his warehouse or "warehouse" 20 to 200 miles away, and that's the last you ever hear of him. What do you do? You write and buzz the keys start sticking and it possibly goes out to sea. You may spend a fortune on that cheap piano that you probably paid more for than you should have. The established piano dealer in your own area. Service after the sale is most important for the piano owner and the lease considered by the average buyer. This happens to you. Jobless, utilities, prisons concern Sen. Vadalabene

Senator Sam Vadalabene, D-Edwardsville, says the key problem throughout Illinois continues to be high unemployment and underemployment.

National economic indicators show increased economic activity elsewhere in the nation, but Illinois continues to lag behind in the recovery, the veteran state legislator said. He added:

"We've heard many comments out of Washington lately about the increase in employment and about the economic recovery at hand. Unfortunately, that activity has not yet reached Illinois and the 56th District is a prime example.

"There is talk in Illinois of economic gains and drops in unemployment. Well, some of these changes are simply not taking place here.

"The General Assembly has taken initial steps toward cutting unemployment and attracting new business to Illinois.

"When we arrived in Springfield a year ago, we tackled the unemployment problem head-on and we hope to begin seeing the benefits as this year progresses.

"However, we cannot rest on last year's accomplishments and we are to completely recover from the recession.

Sen. Vadalabene touched on other matters of concern to the 56th District.

Taxes. He said he is pleased Governor Thompson will not seek to extend the temporary income tax increase.

"To extend by any length of time what the legislature touted as a 'temporary' tax would have been a serious breach of the public trust. I was prepared to fight tooth and nail against any such extension."

Transportation. Illinois' road and mass transit funds are "in better shape than they have been since the early 1970s."

"The Madison County highway program has fared very well due to the adjustment in the motor fuel tax fund."

Elderly. "We have increased the homestead exemption for senior citizens because we know how difficult it can be living on a fixed income. There is no moral justification for the loss by senior citizens of homes which they have worked so hard to keep for virtually all their adult lives."

"Further, we look to more improvements in 1984 in dealing with senior citizens issues. For example, I will help lead the fight to decouple Illinois' income tax formula from the federal formula."

"Without such action, many of Illinois' seniors will have to — for the first time ever — pay taxes on Social Security income. Such an arrangement, I believe, is patently unfair."

Utilities. "An overriding concern of Illinois consumers has been the sharp increase in the cost of utilities in Illinois."

"The biggest issue, second only to the economy, facing the General Assembly last year was the cost of heating a home in Illinois. We passed, after years of attempts, legislation creating a Citizens Utility Board to represent the concerns of the ratepayers."

"In addition, we approved the addition of two new Illinois Commerce Commission members in an attempt to broaden consumers' base of support within the ICC."

"I was extremely satisfied with our gains in the area of utility regulation and look forward to their benefits in the near future."

Education. "Despite threats of severe cutbacks in elementary, secondary and higher education, the legislature was able to cut waste in other areas and fund the necessary programs for the state's children."

"Once again, it was creative thinking by the membership which allowed us to sustain educational funding at proper levels. For example, we enacted legislation which expands the role of community colleges throughout our state toward the improvement of our economy."

"I have always been a staunch advocate of better school facilities for our children and will continue the fight to improve educational opportunities for Illinois' children."

Corrections. Two new modular prison facilities were approved during the General Assembly's fall veto session.

"If we are to stop the increase in criminal activity in our cities, then we simply have to commit ourselves to a sufficient prison bedspace," Vadalabene said.

"I look forward to the spring session, which begins in earnest following the March 20 primary."

"It will truly be a challenge as we begin work on the budget for fiscal 1985 (July 1984-June 1985). I look forward to that challenge and welcome it."

Model student health fair site

Metro East Lutheran High School has been selected as a model site to introduce the student Health Fair program to area schools and communities.

Student Health Fair, a program by students, for students, was developed by the National Health Screening Council for Volunteer Organizations (NHSVO), a private, nonprofit organization.

The Atlantic Richfield Foundation, national sponsor, helps provide for equipment and supplies needed at the Health Fair. Locally, KHTR radio, Vess soft drinks and the Red Cross are aiding the efforts of Lutheran High.

The fair will take place Tuesday, March 6, from 8:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Student volunteers specially trained for the event will perform screening tests for vision, blood type, anemia, skin fold measurements and blood pressure.

Other students will staff learning centers and displays, covering such topics as stress management, drinking and driving, drug and alcohol abuse, suicide prevention and CPR (Cardiopulmonary resuscitation).

Health fairs are not a "physical exam," but screening tests sometimes turn up potential problems that may later be confirmed by health professionals. The event gives students a chance to share knowledge, skills, and positive feelings about health with their peers.

Students in grades nine through twelve will attend the fair, prepared by Mrs. Barb Dwyer and the sophomore girls' health class, with faculty and staff participating.

Interested school and community leaders are invited to attend. To arrange for a tour of the health fair, they may contact Mrs. Dwyer at 656-0043.

County-Glen Carbon agreement is near

By SUSAN SIGNA-GO-WEICH of the Press-Record

According to Morris Miles, chairman of the Madison County Board's special sanitary sewer committee, an intergovernmental agreement between the county and Glen Carbon is near. The two are in the midst of talks concerning the conversion of the Granite City Wastewater Treatment plant to a regional plant.

Under the agreement, Glen Carbon's sewage would be routed through the county sewer district. Glen Carbon would agree to pay for the necessary improvements to the county system so it could handle the county's sewage. The estimates are estimated at $97,484.

AFTER The first intergovernmental meeting Wednesday, Miles said he felt the pay agreement would be worked out. "Glen Carbon is considering a few things right now, but I think that both sides want the agreement," he said.

Gene Futch, sewer superintendent for the district, said the meeting was very "comfortable. Nothing negative happened. It was a good meeting."

Futch said the meeting helped the county and Glen Carbon "familiarize" themselves with each other. "The two groups have discussed the agreement in the past, but on general terms. At this meeting they got down to the nitty gritty."

FUTCH SAID he is not certain when an agreement will be reached. "It really depends on when both groups can get all of their data together. The agreement could happen next meeting, or it could be three meetings down the road."

Both groups have agreed to meet again next Thursday. Glen Carbon and the sewer committee met after the Madison County Board approved a resolution which allows engineering work to be completed concerning the Granite City Regionalization Project. The county board's approval of work is contingent on the intergovernmental agreement.

TWO-LEVEL EFFORT. Madison volunteer firefighters direct their efforts on two levels of a frame house last week at 2034 Fifth St. The fire, which started in the kitchen, did an estimated $10,000 damage to the frame structure and $3,000 damage to the contents. The occupant, Bonnie Hutchings, was at home when the blaze started. Firemen were at the scene for more than four hours.

Frank Adams dean of economic development

Frank G. Adams, a native of Granite City, has been named to the newly-created position of dean of Community and Economic Development at Lewis and Clark Community College, Godfrey.

The appointment was approved last week by the LCCC Board of Trustees and becomes effective March 17.

Adams is currently provost, Contractual Programs and Services, at the College of Lake County in Grayslake, Ill. In that position, according to Dr. J. Neil Admire, LCCC President, "Adams has established a highly successful training program for business and industry. In fact, he is recognized throughout the Midwest as one of the outstanding people in his field."

In the new position, Adams will work with business, industry, agencies and other groups and organizations within the multi-county college district to provide new programs and services.

As part of his economic development efforts, Adams will be responsible for all off-campus programs, and will establish a business and industry center to provide training services.

At Lake County, he directs 500 employees and $18 million in funds annually. His responsibilities at that institution include developing contractual programs with military groups and state agencies.

Adams says his objectives at Lewis and Clark will include "working with business, industry and local regional planning groups to attract new industries to the area."

"Of course, we want to work with established industries, too, to keep them here. And there's a whole agribusiness community that the college has a responsibility to continue serving and even enhance its service too."

"We want to be an avenue for the small business owner to reach his potential. One way we can do this is by assisting him in securing federal contracts for his products and services."

Another important priority, according to Adams, will be to work in the area of a good, solid training relationship with area unions. "It is the union leadership that can identify the laid-off worker who needs training," explains Adams.

"The college cannot do all these things alone, but by working with other groups and agencies, Lewis and Clark can play a role in this endeavor."

Before becoming provost at Lake County, he served as dean of Open Campus and earlier as dean of Continuing Education and Community Services at that institution.

A graduate of McKendree College in Lebanon, Adams holds a bachelor degree in social and intellectual history from Eastern Illinois University, Charleston.

He has an educational specialist degree in supervision and curriculum development from Indiana State University in Terre Haute.

Adams participates in community service activities. In addition, he is the author of a host of publications, is a sought-after speaker, and has developed materials for numerous seminars.

He was born in Granite City and spent much of his childhood in the Alton area.

Bus system survey of public attitudes

The Bi-State Development Agency will be surveying some of its riders and non-riders this week to determine how they use the present bus system and what they want most out of public transportation.

Results of the surveys will be used to update current ridership information and aid in the development of a plan to increase ridership through better route design and marketing.

Bi-State's Research Department will be conducting on-board rider surveys on selected bus runs through Sunday, Feb. 26. The surveys will help Bi-State learn who the present users of the system are, their perception of what bus service should be, and their evaluation of the service now provided.

In all, about 20,000 passengers will be surveyed on 51 Sunday runs, 30 Saturday runs and 25 Sunday runs. This is the first time Bi-State has thoroughly surveyed its weekend riders.

In addition to the on-board surveys, Bi-State will be contacting 2,000 area residents by telephone to survey their attitudes about public transportation.

Epilepsy Association to meet Wednesday

The Epilepsy Association of Southwest Illinois will meet Wednesday, Feb. 22, at the Weisman Room in St. Elizabeth Medical Center, 8 p.m.

This is also a meeting for the support group and the public is invited to attend, according to a spokesman for the organization.

Guest speaker will be Susan Lite from the School of Pharmacology. She will talk about drugs and medication given to epilepsy victims and the side effects from the various medicines the spokesman explained.

ALLEGED MEN HAVE BEER IN VEHICLE

Rodney W. Knott, 23, of 2412 Ohio Ave., was charged with illegal transportation of alcohol and Glen A. Black, 20, of 2207 Rock Road, was booked for illegal possession of alcohol last week, after an officer alleged seeing a can of beer on the dashboard of a car operated by Knott at West 20th Street and Illinois Avenue.

Four open cans of beer also were in the vehicle, a report said.

The report also alleged the same men had received similar citations from a Madison County sheriff's deputy at 8 p.m. Tuesday. Knott was released upon posting his driver's license and Black was released on notice to appear for a hearing.

CHARGE 2 WITH FIGHTING

Dennis W. Revelle, 30, of 111 Briarhaven Drive, and David E. Buehrer, 22, of 1729 Venice Ave., were charged with fighting at 2:05 a.m. Friday in the parking lot of a restaurant at 1623 Madison Ave. Michael K. Heatherly, 21, of 2147 Woodlawn Ave. was arrested for disorderly conduct after allegedly interfering with police as they arrested Buehrer.

New type auto battery is distributed locally

A new replacement battery called the "Torque Starter" is being marketed by Chloride, Inc., and now is available locally in Granite City.

Chloride's "recombination electrolyte technology" makes the "Torque Starter" totally different from any other automobile battery in the world today. Gassing has been eliminated, thus the need for venting, which can result in water loss and corrosion is not necessary. Acid is permanently suspended within the unit, which eliminates the possibility of acid leaks or spills, even if the case is broken.

Vibration of Electrode Grids has been minimized (vibration is a leading cause of battery failure) by the revolutionary design of the battery.

Will consumers buy a replacement battery for 10 to 25 percent more over other maintenance free batteries? Chloride believes so. Its market studies show that the auto aftermarket has changed in recent years. It used to be that owners of older cars bought cheap replacement parts because the car was headed for trade-in anyway. Now cars are kept longer and maintained better.

The company backed the industry practice of supplying a special battery size and configuration for virtually every car model. The Torque Starter will come in only one size, shape, and power rating. Its 650 Cold Cranking Amps are ample to start any passenger car in the winter and its multiple sets of cable posts and hold-down arrangements ensure that it will fit any mounting scheme. Chloride predicts that the battery will fit more than 95 percent of the cars on American roads.

Bill Houser of Houser Auto Parts, distributor for the Torque Starter in the Greater St. Louis Area, is optimistic about the market for this new battery.

Bill said Chloride also is negotiating with car makers to have Torque starter specified as original equipment on future car models.

5-year prison term on robbery attempt

Wesley Ware Jr., 17, of 106 Granite St., Venice, has been sentenced by Associate Judge Edward Ferguson to serve five years in an Illinois state prison.

An armed robbery attempt occurred Nov. 25 in Granite City and a guilty plea was entered in court records Jan. 6.

In a separate case, Ware and three juveniles—boys aged 16, 14, and 13—were arrested in September 1983 in connection with a burglary at Bob's Red Fox Grocery, 420 Broadway, Venice. The store interior was damaged, surveillance cameras were destroyed, and cash, alcohol and cigarettes were taken.

It used to be that owners of older cars bought cheap replacement parts because the car was headed for trade-in anyway. Now cars are kept longer and maintained better.

The company backed the industry practice of supplying a special battery size and configuration for virtually every car model. The Torque Starter will come in only one size, shape, and power rating. Its 650 Cold Cranking Amps are ample to start any passenger car in the winter and its multiple sets of cable posts and hold-down arrangements ensure that it will fit any mounting scheme. Chloride predicts that the battery will fit more than 95 percent of the cars on American roads.

Bill Houser of Houser Auto Parts, distributor for the Torque Starter in the Greater St. Louis Area, is optimistic about the market for this new battery.

Bill said Chloride also is negotiating with car makers to have Torque starter specified as original equipment on future car models.

Clearing some misconceptions

Law and you

By Rick Reed
Attorney at Law

It has been the experience of this office that there is a great deal of confusion regarding various legal matters. Certain legal myths have arisen over the years. It is the purpose of this article to identify some of these misconceptions and to set the record straight regarding what the law actually is in these areas.

One common fallacy is that a contract must be notarized in order to be valid. This is certainly not true. The only purpose a notary serves is to identify the person who affixes his signature to a document. There is no requirement that the signatures to a contract be notarized in order to make the document enforceable.

Another widely held belief is that if a person dies without a will in Illinois, all his property will go to his children. The truth is that in this situation, one-half of his property will go to the surviving spouse and one-half will pass to his children. If he has no children, all the property will go to the surviving spouse.

A third legal myth involves putting a notice in the newspaper that the husband will no longer be responsible for any debts incurred by his wife. If the husband and wife have charge accounts in both names, the husband will continue to be obligated for future purchases, even if such a notice is published. The proper procedure would be to write to the creditor and cancel the charge accounts. The courts are unwilling to impose a duty on creditors to read notices which are published in local newspapers.

Another fallacy is that you must leave at least one dollar to our children for a will to be valid. In fact, if the children are not mentioned in a will in Illinois, they receive nothing. Whereas a man cannot totally disinherit his spouse in this state, he can disinherit his children. There is no obligation to mention children in a will.

There also is an area of confusion regarding terminating child support when the paying spouse loses his job. Many people believe that if there is a total loss of income in this situation, the obligor automatically ends one's obligation to pay child support. As noted in previous articles, there is an obligation in this situation to return to court and have a judge authorize a decrease on child support. This does not happen automatically, even if there is a substantial change in circumstances.

Finally, there is a common misconception that if one spouse moves out of the marital residence, he will jeopardize his property rights if there is a subsequent divorce. If the parties separate, this will not be considered when the court divides property. In fact, this misconception of either of the parties is not to be considered by the court when the marital property is divided.

Fish for ponds available

The Madison County Soil and Water Conservation District will sponsor the sale of fish for those wanting to stock their ponds. These are pond-grown fish: Channel Catfish, 4-6 inches at 20-cents, 6-8 inch at 30-cents and 8-10 inch at 50-cents; Hybrid Bluegill, 1-2 inch at $40 per bag of 250, and 3-5 inch at 35-cents; and Bass, 3 inches at 40-cents each. There is a minimum order of $15.

The catfish and Bluegill will be delivered to the USDA Building parking lot on Old Alton Road in Edwardsville on April 24, at 2 p.m. The Bass will be delivered in early June.

Fish must be ordered in advance and District Chairman Melvin Balsters requests early reservations, since quantities are limited. Containers of pond-water are needed for transporting the catfish, bass and 3-5 inch Bluegill. The 1-2 inch Bluegill will be bagged. Buyers should allow one gallon of water for each four to six fish.

Orders must be placed before April 20 by calling 1-656-5168, mailing orders to Post Office Box 482, Edwardsville, or stopping by the Madison County Soil and Water Conservation District Office in Edwardsville.

CAMPING TRAILER FIRE

A camping trailer with an estimated value of $1,000 was destroyed in a fire last week at the home of Bill Sensabaugh, 1920 Beckwith Ave., Madison. Madison firefighters extinguished the blaze and listed a $150 loss to its contents.

Madison to buy new radar gun

The Madison City Council last week granted permission to Chief of Police Donald Bridick to seek bids on a new radar gun for the police department. The move came after the present radar gun became broken for the second time within a year. The new gun would be used, in addition to the department's present gun.

Alderman Robert Grieve said he felt the new gun would pay for itself within a few months, since this would increase money collected for fines.

Also at the meeting, the council approved a letter from Mike Maciek, Madison fire chief, so that he may negotiate ambulance contracts with neighboring communities. Maciek said he had received "numerous requests from individuals, organizations and industries from neighboring communities concerning the possibility of our providing ambulance service to them."

COUNCIL MEMBERS also gave approval to extend the paving of State Street all the way to the stop sign next to the Venice overpass. The measure formerly was only to pave that part of State Street that is within the city limits of Madison and is subject to the approval of the Venice City Council.

Youths charged with cannabis possession

Daniel W. Pritchard, 18, of 2404 Cardinal Ave., and Keith B. Downs, 17, of 2413 Glen Place, were both charged with unlawful possession of cannabis when they reported to Granite City police headquarters last week.

The pair was arrested Feb. 5 in a parked truck at Johnson School, 4100 Old Alton Road. They were released until Tuesday, pending further investigation.

At the time of their arrest, a strong odor of marijuana was noticed by an officer as he was talking to Downs, a passenger in the vehicle.

A clear plastic bag containing a greenish-brown vegetable-like substance was seen laying on the seat and two other bags, containing the same substance, were found in the glove box of the pickup, it was alleged.

At police headquarters, the substance was field tested and it was alleged to be marijuana, reports said.

Youths find safe that was taken by burglar

Three young people reported finding a small safe and a large number of documents in a drainage ditch at the rear of the 1500 block of Lindell Boulevard last week.

The youths went to a neighbor of a person whose name appeared on the documents, in the 1500 block of Johnson Road, and police were called.

The residence from where the safe and papers were stolen was found to have been burglarized, with a door glass broken and the rear door open. The living room area and two bedrooms had been ransacked.

A relative of the owner was contacted and an inventory is to be taken to determine what items are missing.

Carpenters seek back pay from EOC

By PATHAY LUTZ
for the Press-Record

Although the Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission (MCEOC) board of directors failed to produce a quorum at a meeting last week four carpenters formerly employed by the commission's Rehabilitation Program voiced concern about back pay owed them by EOC.

In addressing the six board members present, John Jakich, former carpenter rehabilitation director, stated that he and four other carpenters were worried about receiving back pay because they are "just the little people" and that they had "never heard anything from anybody" about the lost pay.

"It's been eight weeks and we haven't heard anything," Jakich said. "We figure that we have to speak up or we might never get our money. Head Start has been paid and other EOC employees have been paid and we just haven't heard anything. We've turned the matter over to the union and they were supposed to give it to their lawyers, but we haven't heard anything at all.

"We also know that the EOC owes money to vendors, and chances are that money will run out before it gets to us, because we're just the little people," Jakich added.

Board Director John Ervin responded to Jakich's questions, saying, "The bank has put a freeze on funds, so if you got a check, I don't know what you could do with it."

According to Jakich, the carpenters in the rehabilitation program worked on school buildings for Head Start and also assisted rehabilitation on houses in the weatherization program. He also stated that he paid $100 of his own money to pay for supplies, because EOC's credit was not good.

Other carpenters present to support Jakich's statements were James Allen of East Alton, James Belford of Venice and Steve Waltemate of Granite City.
